Sample Essay

Accepted by Harvard

Of all the characters that I've "met" through books and movies, two stand out as people that I most want to emulate. They are Attacus Finch from To Kill A Mockingbird and Dr. Archibald "Moonlight" Graham from Field of Dreams. They appeal to me because they embody what I strive to be. They are influential people in small towns who have a direct positive effect on those around them. I, too, plan to live in a small town after graduating from college, and that positive effect is something I must give in order to be satisfied with my life.

Both Mr. Finch and Dr. Graham are strong supporting characters in wonderful stories. They symbolize good, honesty, and wisdom. When the story of my town is written I want to symbolize those things. The base has been formed for me to live a productive, helpful life. As an Eagle Scout, I represent those things that Mr. Finch and Dr. Graham represent. In the child/adolescent world I am Mr. Finch and Dr. Graham, but soon I'll be entering the adult world, a world in which I'm not yet prepared to lead.

I'm quite sure that as teenagers Attacus Finch and Moonlight Graham often wondered what they could do to help others. They probably emulated someone who they had seen live a successful life. They saw someone like my grandfather, 40-year president of our hometown bank, enjoy a lifetime of leading, sharing, and giving. I have seen him spend his Christmas Eves taking gifts of food and joy to indigent families. Often when his bank could not justify a loan to someone in need, my grandfather made the loan from his own pocket. He is a real-life Moonlight Graham, a man who has shown me that characters like Dr. Graham and Mr. Finch do much more than elicit tears and smiles from readers and movie watchers. Through him and others in my family I feel I have acquired the values and the burning desire to benefit others that will form the foundation for a great life. I also feel that that foundation is not enough. I do not yet have the sophistication, knowledge, and wisdom necessary to succeed as I want to in the adult world. I feel that Harvard, above all others, can guide me toward the life of greatness that will make me the Attacus Finch of my town.

ADMISSIONS COMMITTEE COMMENTS:
This essay is a great example of how to answer this question well. This applicant chose characters who demonstrated specific traits that reflect on his own personality. We believe that he is sincere about his choices because his reasons are personal (being from a small town, and so forth). He managed to tell us a good deal about himself, his values, and his goals while maintaining a strong focus throughout

APPENDIX 'C' MEDICAL SERVICES BRANCH ARTICLE - NOVEL CORONAVIRUS
TO FORCE ORDERS NO. 3822 DATED 2020-09-03

NOVEL CORONAVIRUS (2019-n CoV)

CASE:

A twenty-four-year-old male taekwondo student, Carlos Doe, returns home to Jamaica from a martial arts tournament in Wuhan City, Hubei Province China. Upon his return he begins noticing fever, cough, stuffy nose with clear mucus draining from nose, joint pains and weakness. He begins to take over the counter vitamins, honey and lime but three days later he notes worsening shortness of breath, chest pain and cough. He presents to his medical practitioner for treatment.

What is Coronavirus?

These are a large family of viruses, studied since the 1960s, that can cause a spectrum of diseases, ranging from the simple common cold to more lethal lung infections such as Middle East Respiratory Syndrome (MERS) and Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS). Coronaviruses exist in both humans and some animals such as snakes, cattle, bats.

What is novel Coronavirus (2019- nCoV)?

This is a newly discovered type of coronavirus. This virus was identified first in late December 2019 when the World Health Organization (WHO) was contacted after several cases of pneumonia (lung infections) were diagnosed in Wuhan City, Hubei Province China. On January 7th Chinese authorities identified the virus as a coronavirus similar to MERS and SARS. Novel coronavirus, like other coronavirus infections, is characterized by respiratory and flu-like symptoms. Novel coronavirus infections currently do not appear to be as severe as SARS or MERS.

What is SARS (Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome)?

This is a lethal infectious condition caused by SARS associated coronavirus (SARS-CoV) characterized by flu-like symptoms and severe breathing and lung failure (respiratory failure). It was first reported in 2002 in Guangdong Province Southern China.

What is MERS (Middle East Respiratory Syndrome)?

This is a lethal respiratory (lung) infectious disease caused by a special coronavirus, (MERS-CoV), which was identified in 2012 in Saudi Arabia. It is linked to countries near the Arabian Peninsula such as Iran, Bahrain, Yemen and Kuwait. It is characterized by flu-like symptoms which can progress to respiratory (breathing) failure.

What are some of the symptoms of novel coronavirus infection?

The symptoms are similar to most coronavirus infections. These include: fever, weakness, headache, muscle pains, cough, runny nose, shortness of breath. Initially, persons may have the infection and not display symptoms immediately. When symptoms appear they usually begin with fever, weakness and joint pains. A few days later, respiratory symptoms such as cough and shortness of breath begin. Symptoms may progress to cause organ failure and death in severe cases.

How is novel coronavirus spread from person to person?

Transmission mainly includes respiratory droplets which arise from coughing and sneezing. These droplets usually spread up to three (3) feet away. Spread can occur when an individual comes in contact with a surface which is contaminated with infectious droplets (e.g. door knobs, desks, clothing and unclean hands).

How is novel coronavirus different from the flu or Dengue fever?

It may be difficult to use symptoms to distinguish these viral illnesses as they may manifest in identical ways. Laboratory tests may be the only way of distinguishing these conditions. A key difference with dengue fever however, relates to mode of transmission, where the Aedes mosquitoes are needed for transmission as opposed to respiratory droplets for coronavirus transmission.

APPENDIX 'C' (CONT'D) TO FORCE ORDERS NO. 3822 DATED 2020-09-03

How can one reduce the chances of getting infected with novel coronavirus?

1. Frequent hand-washing with soap and water for at least twenty (20) seconds or using an alcohol based hand sanitizer where appropriate
2. Covering mouth and nose with tissue or utilizing the inner elbow rather than palm of hand while coughing
3. Frequent sanitization of surfaces with disinfectant
4. Avoiding close contact with sick individuals
5. Avoiding touching eyes, nose and mouth with unwashed hands
6. Avoiding consuming raw or undercooked animal products
7. Obtaining the yearly influenza (Flu) vaccine to reduce your chances of getting other types of respiratory viral infections

Can one be vaccinated against novel coronavirus?

Unfortunately there is no available vaccine specific for novel coronavirus at this time.

What should one do if one begins having some symptoms of the novel coronavirus infection?

- 1) Avoid excessive contact with other individuals
- 2) Ensure proper respiratory etiquette when coughing or sneezing.
- 3) Consult a medical doctor for necessary evaluation, testing, and timely notification of the Ministry of Health.
- 4) Persons who are infected should be quarantined.

Individuals with certain medical conditions (e.g. Diabetes, Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV), Heart and Lung diseases) as well as children and the elderly may have a higher risk of life threatening complications. As such early intervention and medical consultation is warranted.

How is coronavirus treated?

Treatment will depend on a case by case basis and varies based on severity. Suspected cases should be quarantined. The aim of medical care is to stabilize individuals suffering from severe respiratory symptoms and to preventing deterioration. This may require admission to a hospital an even to an Intensive Care Unit. For less severe cases the aim of treatment is to provide supportive care of symptoms. This may include adequate hydration, reduction of fever with fever medications.

What precautions should I take if I have to travel?

Avoid visiting implicated regions unnecessarily (China, Japan, Korea, Thailand). Persons who have symptoms of a sudden respiratory illness before, during or after travel, are urged to seek medical attention. A detailed travel history should be provided to the medical care provider. Typical measures of disease prevention apply during travel. Airport officials will likely check your travel history and perform health screening. There are policies and international standards for treating with an ill person on-board an aircraft.

Case Cont'd:

The student's doctor does relevant checks and refers him to the hospital where he has blood tests and X-rays done. He is admitted to hospital under quarantine and two weeks later his condition improves. He is discharged home. The Ministry of Health Public Health Department is notified of his case, and necessary health surveillance and educational measures are instituted.

APPENDIX 'D' MEDICAL SERVICES BRANCH ARTICLE: DEALING WITH CHILDREN'S ANXIETY
AND COVID-19
TO FORCE ORDERS NO. 3822 DATED 2020-09-03

Dealing with Children's Anxiety and COVID-19

We are facing unprecedented times and how parents go through this period can be reflected in children's behaviour and if you deal with it in a positive way, children can learn resilience or emotional toughness. Anxiety is that feeling of unease such as worry or fear which can be mild or severe.

How can you identify anxiety in your child/ren?

- they ask questions like: Are we going to be okay? Is Daddy going to be okay?
- they have trouble to separate from parents
- headaches or stomachaches
- moodiness and irritability
- tantrums or trouble sleeping

How can you help your anxious child/ren?

- Provide structure in their day.
 - ✓ Make a timetable with your child/ren to keep them involved.
 - ✓ When doing chores or schoolwork you can make it into a competition between their siblings where they can choose the rewards eg. prizes or surprises at the end or having them safely socialize with family or friends via video chat.
- Allow them to take some responsibility for their safety.
 - ✓ Remind them of what they need to do to take care of themselves like washing hands and staying inside the home, wearing masks and using hand sanitizing.
- Practice what is like to be calm.
 - ✓ Respond in a calm way to situations. This will create an impression on your child/ren about how you handle crisis.
- Encourage them to practice gratitude.
 - ✓ Talk with your child/ren to help them to see the 'silver linings' that are present in the situation, for example, with more time at home they can get an opportunity to bond with their siblings, cousins, grandparents and other relatives.
