SERIAL NO. 4057

Sub. No. 1 THE COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

Greetings once again my distinguished Colleagues,

I trust that this week has been a great one for you and your families. Let us take a few moments out of our busy days to remember our Colleagues, who may be going through tough times health-wise, financially, work related or just challenges at home with families. We sometimes forget that we are our brothers' and sisters' keepers, and as retired DCP Novelette Grant once said, you would be wrong to think that when a police man or woman comes to work, they come without their problems. Even while we all have our personal challenges, we can help others through theirs.

Tomorrow, Saturday March 8, 2025 is celebrated as International Women's Day. To my male Colleagues, let us honor our JCF women who inspire, who protect, and who lead. To all the women of the JCF, your strength is immeasurable, your impact is profound, and your legacy is forever etched in the fabric of our nation. We thank you for your sacrifices, for your tireless work, and for the unspoken strength that you carry. Through your courage, you empower not just yourselves, but the entire nation. Happy International Women's Day!

Colleagues, we are called upon to protect, serve, and respond to emergencies of all kinds. That's who we are. But amidst that, everyday we have some incredibly heart-warming stories coming out of the JCF. One such was the delivering of a beautiful baby girl by two of our very own who went beyond the call of duty. Constable Denton Brown and District Constable Garey Murphy became unexpected heroes in the miracle of life.

Their bravery and quick thinking turned what could have been a tragic situation into a heart-warming story of resilience and compassion. In that moment, they were more than law enforcers – they were guardians of life, embodying the true spirit of the JCF – service, protection and reassurance. Their actions remind us that heroes do not always wear capes - sometimes, they wear badges and carry a deep sense of duty to humanity.

I am sure an entire book can be written with similar stories of everyday heroic gestures of our members. But are we perfect? Of course not. Do we have challenges? Of course we do. Like any other such organisation, we too have our challenges with some members not doing what is expected and whose service to the public is underwhelming. However, that is certainly not what defines us. While we continue to improve our service delivery and address our challenges, we will also continue to push back against any attempt to use these to define us.

Colleagues, I challenge anyone to find a greater advocate for human rights than those who put their lives on the line every day in protection of others. True human rights advocacy is going beyond words - it is about action, sacrifice, and a deep commitment to the dignity and safety of others. While activists raise awareness and legislators shape policies, it is you, the brave men and women in uniform who embody these principles on the frontlines.

Every day, the JCF, the JDF, and our JFB firefighters walk into the unknown, ready to defend the vulnerable, uphold justice, and stand between chaos and order. We do not ask about class or creed before stepping in to save a life. We do not hesitate when faced with danger. We never question an instruction to do a tour of duty when deployed to the most violence prone community, even while we have no friend or loved one there. Our mission is simple yet profound: to protect and serve, even at great personal risk.

Colleagues, we are the individuals who rush toward gunfire to shield the innocent, who rescue victims from burning buildings, who pull the wounded from the wreckage of disasters. We are the ones who, in moments of crisis, become the last line of defense between a person's right to live freely and the forces that seek to take that away – sometimes at the expense of our own lives.

THE COMMISSIONER'S CORNER (CONT'D)

Advocacy for human rights is not just about speaking against injustice - it is about actively preventing it. It is about ensuring that every individual, no matter their background, can live without fear. And while there are debates and deliberations, you, our unsung heroes, continue your silent daily fight for the rights and lives of others.

So, who are the greatest advocates for human rights? You who do not just talk about protection but embody it. You who with courage and duty, put yourselves in harm's way so that others may live safely. So if you hear anyone asking why am I so passionate about this area, just tell them that it is because even the protectors need protection – and that's my job.

Colleagues, I wish for you and yours a wonderful and peaceful weekend. Until next week, walk good.

APPENDIX 'A' (CONT'D) TO FORCE ORDERS NO. 4057 DATED 2025-03-06

1.0 Introduction

Agriculture has historically been a cornerstone of Jamaica's economy, contributing significantly to Gross Domestic Product (GDP), employment and foreign exchange earnings. However, the sector has faced challenges, particularly from agricultural related and organized crimes where both large and small-scale farmers experience theft of livestock, crops and equipment. These factors along with environmental disasters threaten the viability of agriculture in Jamaica, contributes to increased rate of criminal activities and disrupts peace and good order of communities.

It is therefore necessary that a specialized branch be established to combat agricultural related crimes and safeguard Jamaica's food security. To this end, the Agricultural Protection Branch (APB) is hereby instituted within the Jamaica Constabulary Force.

The Agricultural Protection Branch is aimed at strategically deploying specially trained and technical personnel within geographic divisions. The function of the branch will include the administration, operation, intelligence and investigation of agricultural produce crimes while adapting proactive and modern approaches to crime reduction and control in the agricultural sector.

To fulfil this mandate, The Agricultural Protection Branch will operate at the area and divisional levels with a metropolitan headquarters providing oversight of its operations leveraging available technology and stakeholder partnerships to deter, reduce, interrupt and dismantle agricultural related crimes across Jamaica.

2.0 Purpose

The purpose of this policy and standard operating procedures (SOPs) is to establish the framework for the administration, management and operations of the Agricultural Protection Branch of the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF).

3.0 Scope

This policy and standard operating procedures applies to all sworn and unsworn members of the Jamaica Constabulary Force. It covers the management, administration and operations of the Agricultural Protection Branch.

4.0 Policy Statement

It is the policy of the JCF that the Agricultural Protection Branch will:

- 4.1 ensure the enforcement of laws and regulations governing agriculture;
- 4.2 collaborate with stakeholders to develop or improve safety and security measures; and
- 4.3 institute strategies to prevent and investigate agricultural produce crimes and safeguard the livelihood of farmers across Jamaica.

You may be more likely to be at risk if you are over 50, have a family history of colon cancer, are obese, have diabetes, or an unhealthy diet. Screening should start at 45 or earlier for those at high risk.

Warning Signs

Colon cancer may be silent, but beware of:

- Frequent changes in bowel habits
- Stool blood
- Unexplained weight loss
- Abdominal cramps or tiredness
- Screening & Treatment

Early regular screening is important.

Tests are:

- Stool tests (FOBT, FIT) – Detect hidden blood.
- Colonoscopy – The diagnostic gold standard and polyp remover.

If detected early, surgery, chemotherapy, and radiation can cure effectively.

Prevention

- Maintain activity and healthy weight.
- Don't use alcohol and tobacco.
- Consume high-fiber diets and stay away from red/processed meats.
- Get screened regularly.

Protect your health—get screened and encourage others to do the same.
