SERIAL NO. 4007

Sub. No. 1 THE COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

Distinguished Colleagues,

As we embark on the next chapter of our story, I ask that you join me in registering appreciation for our most recent former Commissioner of Police Major General Antony Anderson. He has given us six solid years of exemplary leadership that has helped to propel our beloved organization to the next frontier. This could not have been done without our full support, and so, as your newest Commissioner, I thank you for making the JCF what it is today. The greatest of strategies fail if our men and women are not behind it. Your continuous support and commitment has presented me with an organization that is on a solid foundation to continue our transformation journey.

I therefore look forward to your full support, and I offer you my unwavering commitment to lead this organization with the distinction that it deserves. The well-being of our members will be the number one priority of the High Command. It is through our members that we deliver service to our people, and so we must start with providing high quality service to them. As such, in short order we will be further building out the Welfare Branch, that will see welfare officers based in every division with clearly defined terms of reference. These officers will be working on behalf of the divisional management team to ensure that member's needs are given appropriate attention. The intention is to institutionalize the attendance to members' welfare needs.

While there may not be consensus on every matter that we contemplate, or strategies that we implement, it is important that these are communicated to you before our external stakeholders. The High Command will endeavour to ensure that this approach is followed as much as it is possible. It is important that when we speak about what "we" will be doing, that those who constitute the "we" are also aware.

To all managers and supervisors, even while we aim to create an environment for our members that facilitate them being their best selves, we need to be mindful of our role in ensuring accountability and good discipline. It is disheartening to see our most junior members sometimes displaying blatant insubordination and outright unacceptable behaviours while supervisors are present. Be reminded that such behaviours that have gone unchecked go against the grain of your role, function and responsibility.

Let us ensure that our own professional pride disallows us from turning a blind eye to acts of indiscipline, and that we guard against any threat to the image of our noble organization.

Once again colleagues, I look forward to your continued support.
