Annual Joint Central Conference May 29-30, 2019

Conference 2019

The Police Federation will be hosting its 76th Annual Joint Central Conferences from May 29-30, 2019 at the Moon Palace, Jamaica Grande, Ocho Rios, St Ann under the theme 'Overcoming Challenges, Rebuilding Bridges for a sustainable future'. The Conference is held on the authority of the Jamaica Constabulary Force Act, specifically the Second Schedule of 1944, which allows delegates to meet and establish ideas and goals for the growth of the Police Federation and ultimately the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF).

Several distinguished guests will be in attendance to include the Most Honourable Andrew Holness, Prime Minister of Jamaica who will give the keynote address. Honourable Horace Chang, Minister of National Security, the Commissioner of Police, as also the Permanent Secretary in the Ministry of National Security will also be in attendance.

We therefore wish to remind our delegates that it is expected that you adopt a posture that embraces the highest level of professionalism. We ask that your discipline and attire reflect the best within us.

Department for Central Conference

The Police Federation has largely adopted for this purpose the dress code of the Jamaica Constabulary Force; particularly treating with plain clothes attire. The importance of dress and appearance in the workplace cannot be overemphasized. It is even more so for a workplace with an established uniformed dress code and standards of grooming.

A professional style of dressing helps employees focus on their jobs, raise self-esteem, affects how an employee is perceived by peers, superiors, and can inspire confidence in customers. A well-groomed appearance from head to toe does convey an image of professionalism and a message that one is serious about the job.

Male Dress Code

Men should wear suits, jackets or blazers, with a collared shirt and tie, complete with a pair of trousers and shoes. The usual appropriate business colours are black, grey, navy blue, brown and dark olive. Neckties are to be kept conservative. Socks should be above the ankle.

Female Dress Code

The appropriate standard is for females to attire in business dress with a professional look. A blazer or jacket with a dress skirt or pants ensemble is recommended. Skirts should be well tailored and properly fitted. Skirt lengths should not be above the top of the knee whilst standing. Hosiery should be flawless and conservative in colour and style. A shade which matches the skin tone is recommended.

The Police Federation expects that your professional image will be in keeping with the rules and guidelines of the organization.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE: Corporal Arleen McBean, Chairman; Sergeant Patrae Rowe, General Secretary, Inspector Jacqueline Brown, Inspector Sheldon Gordon, Sgt David Bo

Carrying of Firearm to Central Conference

There is a strict policy at the hotel regarding exposing your firearm. It should be kept concealed as far as possible. You should never unnecessarily draw or display your firearm whilst on the hotel property. Extended magazines must not be inserted in pistols while wearing plain clothes and members must ensure that there is no round in the breach.

Hair

Women are therefore allowed to wear the following:

Braids : Rope twists : Hair extensions and Wigs

Rope twists should be moderate in size and harnessed at the nape in small buns no more than 1/3 in diameter of the cap. Black hair ornaments such as scrunches are allowed to harness the hair and these should be covered by the hair. Members should ensure they match their natural color with additions. The color of wigs, rope twists and braids should be in keeping with the natural color of members' hair and all efforts must be made to avoid loud and multicolored additions.

Men

Dress for success is typically the motto, but the significance of your dress extends beyond just the clothes you wear. That's right, your professional hairstyle matters too! Whether you're meeting with your team, or in a business meeting people will be scrutinizing the dress and professional haircuts of their peers. It is every member's responsibility to adhere to these guidelines to maintain the good image and discipline of the organization.
