PURPOSE OF MANUAL

The Constabulary Communications Network (CCN) Handbook and Policy Manual (hereafter referred to as 'the Manual') lays the foundation for a functional and cohesive department that projects an alignment of processes and people to optimally deliver products and services.

As a comprehensive resource of information, this manual offers a framework for quality-based implementation of the unit's policies and procedures. It details operational standards that generate an appreciation and understanding of the unit's functions and each person's role, drives efficiency, creates the atmosphere for the attainment of consistently excellent results, and derives optimum value from all communications efforts. Importantly as well, the Manual is positioned to support the Jamaica Constabulary Force's strategic plans and transformation.

All CCN members – inclusive of the Communications Liaisons, Summer Employees and Interns – will be expected to abide by this Manual.

ABOUT THE CONSTABULARY COMMUNICATIONS NETWORK (CCN)

The Constabulary Communications Network (CCN) is the official information arm of the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF). We are the gatekeepers, storytellers and brand vanguards vested with the responsibility of preparing, protecting, preserving, improving and promoting the work, image and impact of the organisation.

Communications is a continual and strategic process that brings substantial value to the organisation's core pillars of Law Enforcement, Force Development and Stakeholder Engagement. To this end, the CCN applies a high quality approach to information gathering, analysis and dissemination that continues to help the JCF to:

- Build and boost awareness, confidence, respect and trust amongst its stakeholders, and define healthier perceptions of policing.
- Understand and strategically respond to public expectations for policing services
- Enhance its corporate identity, and attract and sustain lucrative supporters and partners.
- Institute brand guardrails in keeping with the Force's thrust towards being a modern law enforcement entity.
- Establish its authority and prompt compliance in law enforcement matters.
- Influence conversations and decisions concerning policing, and position thought leaders to guide narratives on law enforcement.
- Communicate and institutionalise internal performance standards that are appreciated and embraced by members, leading to a continued commitment to a culture of excellence.
- Nurture local and international media relations, leading to improved press accuracy, greater coverage of the Force's successes and widespread appreciation of the JCF as a force for good.

CCN OPERATIONAL PRINCIPLES

MISSION

As the JCF's brand builders and storytellers, we produce information and inspired communications solutions that impact stakeholders positively, while protecting, upholding, promoting and improving the organisation's reputational value.

VISION

The CCN will be a standard-bearer and industry leader in government and police communications; consistently crafting on-point messaging for all stakeholders, while nurturing team members' empowerment and growth as professional communicators.

BRAND PERSONALITY

The CCN is vibrant, passionate, curious, bold, on-trend, imaginative and trustworthy, with a voracious desire to shape JCF's legacy, and provide stakeholders with unique and purposeful communications experiences.

SERVICE PILLARS

1. Connection – We are committed to upholding a strong and transparent presence in the community that will create and strengthen meaningful bonds and brand interactions for the JCF.
2. Credibility – We respect that we are accountable to our internal and external stakeholders, and will honour our commitments and maintain our principled approach to communications as underpinned by the JCF's code of ethics.
3. Creativity - We pride ourselves on being communication trail-blazers, and will continue to provide the space for our staff to cultivate, express and deliver innovative solutions that solve the JCF's communications and business challenges.

4. Collaboration – We value good relationships and will continue to seek, nurture, respect and leverage the best internal and external partnerships to convey the organisation's best stories.
5. Coaching – Investing in professional development is critical to our and the JCF's successes, so we will continue to provide consultation to senior management on the organisation's strategic positioning and development, facilitate CCN staff empowerment, and upskill the communications capabilities of identified JCF spokespersons.

MOTTO

'Building Confidence and Credibility through Transparency and Professionalism'.

STANDARDS

The Constabulary Communications Network is the authoritative source for daily police related occurrences. Therefore, the staff is mandated to ensure that correct information is gathered and disseminated to the public. To improve brand JCF, staff must maintain a high standard of professionalism and refrain from being abrupt or curt when responding to queries, even in circumstances where visitors, callers or senders of an email are disrespectful.

Responsibilities of CCN members in engaging with the media:

CCN members encounter members of the media on a daily basis, for instance through pre-arranged interviews on scheduled radio or television programmes, via telephone enquiries, at events or through other means. When speaking with media personnel, all CCN members must understand that they do so on behalf of the JCF, and as such all discourse must professionally reflect the organisation's message and convey all or some of the 7C's of communication:

1. Clarity
2. Correctness
3. Conciseness
4. Courtesy
5. Concreteness
6. Consideration
7. Completeness

All members should be cognizant of that engagements with media may fall into one of these three categories and act appropriately:

1. On the Record - information the reporter can freely report and quote
2. Not for attribution - information the reporter can use, but cannot attribute to a specific individual

3. Off the Record - background information the media cannot use unless confirmed by a different source.

Identification of personnel

Staff members must identify themselves, once contact is made with police personnel from any Division or area for confirmation of information received via the Police Emergency Communication Centre (PECC) or any other source. It is best to lead with your name, rank and office from which you are calling.

Privileged information

Staff members should ensure that personal information retrieved from other police sources or the PECC should not be used in news releases. Should information be copied from the Morning Crime or On the Ball reports, a review of the document must be completed prior to dissemination to ensure that witnesses are protected and investigations are not adversely affected.

In addition, information shared in confidence for the purpose of establishing context or otherwise in the course of duty, which is earmarked as not for public dissemination should be kept in the strictest confidence.

Confirmation of information

All information acquired from the Morning Incident and On the Ball reports must be confirmed prior to dissemination. As such, legitimate and appropriate action must be taken. No incident is to be brought forward for more than two shifts; if the divisions are reluctant to furnish the information, an editor, a senior member of the News Team or the Officer in Charge must be made aware of the challenge and action accordingly.

No release should be drafted without confirmation from a reliable or authoritative person corroborating the same. If there is a disagreement about the facts, the Editor and the Officer-in-charge must be notified, and the same must be clarified prior to compilation and dissemination.

Right of Reply

Reporters, editors, and members of the social media team should make all reasonable efforts to respond to emails, tweets, queries from any person or group promptly. It is essential that matters be weighed for the severity of their impact on the organization and respond accordingly. If an issue arises where a direct response is unattainable, contact should be made with enquirer and apologies and an update of time of response given.

PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

The CCN would have effectively achieved its purpose, should the following standards be attained:

- Timely and accurate dissemination of information to Media houses;
- Timely and accurate research, preparation and delivery of speeches;
- Effective communication strategies are developed and implemented;
- The image of the JCF is effectively promoted through public education programmes
- Staff members are objectively managed.

COMMUNICATIONS GOALS

1. To increase the JCF's share of voice to influence narratives and policy decisions.
2. To develop and sustain an impenetrable, recognisable and embraced corporate identity and brand.
3. To scale up the competencies of CCN members to do the right things and do things right.
4. To actively engage in internal counselling that advises the High Command and Senior Leaders on approaches and responses to external expectations, as well as trends that impact members and the organisation.
5. To bolster the ability of identified spokespersons to effectively communicate on behalf of the organisation.
6. To engage media in producing accurate reporting and obtain fair and balanced media coverage

CCN FUNCTIONS

Coordinated and consistent communication is critical to the JCF's journey towards becoming a modern and connected law enforcement agency.

As the communications landscape has evolved and the demand for information grown, so has the CCN in embracing contemporary approaches and technologies, and increasing its capacity to deliver creative and relevant communications solutions across a network of integrated channels.

Against this, the CCN embeds its functions within the framework of Informing, Educating, Engaging, Influencing and Inspiring its external and internal stakeholders.

1. Informing – Sharing worthy information and statistical data that satisfies interests related to law enforcement activities and issues in national security, while keeping JCF members abreast of matters critical to their job functions and well-being.
2. Educating – Sharing information that will empower stakeholders and encourage responsibility for personal safety and security, while leading and supporting knowledge transfer among JCF members.
3. Engaging – Creating sustainable and shareable content that will stimulate brand loyalty, and maintain constructive interest in the organisation, while encouraging thoughts and actionable contributions from JCF members on Force developments.
4. Influencing – Having a dynamic presence and compelling narratives in the discourse on national security and law enforcement, and using same to sway favourable perspectives and support for the JCF, its members and its activities.
5. Inspiring – Stimulating behaviour change among the populace to conform to rules of law for a safer society, as well as inspiring JCF members to embrace organisational changes that will enable them to function more efficiently and offer better standards of service.

The CCN achieves these functions through:

1. Digital Communications

The CCN has long appreciated the increased demand for on-time and real-time information and as such has a vibrant online presence through the JCF's website and social media pages – Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and YouTube – that rivals other government agencies, as well as corporate organisations. The emergence of the COVID-19 pandemic heightened this already robust use of digital communications, with CCN members quickly stepping up to leverage technology to engage our audiences virtually, and we continue to pursue knowledge and application of new and emerging communications technologies.

2. External Communications

The CCN connects and communicates with target audiences external to the JCF, as it continually creates opportunities for brand awareness/loyalty and generating understanding of and support for the JCF's programmes and services through channels such as community/stakeholder engagement and media relations.

3. Internal Communications

The CCN creates and delivers content for internal consumption that keeps JCF members informed of happenings that impact their job functions and wellbeing, as well as supports opportunities for them to be part of dialogues related to the development and implementation of organisational changes. The CCN further contributes to the promotion and manifestation of the established corporate culture.

4. Visual Communications

Visual Communications is an exciting channel through which the CCN represents and conveys information to the JCF's external and internal audiences. There are standards that are adhered to – such as colour, typeface, imagery, layout etc. – that ensures professional visual elements are produced and shared. From photos to videos, to animation to infographs and so much more, these elements add an interactive dimension to our messaging matrix that evoke emotions, stir discussions and stimulate change.

5. Crisis Communications

The dynamic landscape within which the JCF operates requires the existence of an impactful crisis communications framework.

Stemming from these core functions, the CCN offers the following services:

1. Artwork Production
2. Brand Management
3. Campaign Development and Management
4. Content Production
5. Event Management
6. Internal Media Training
7. Media Management
8. Online Media Management
9. Public Relations
10. Specialised Writing (Press releases, speeches, talking points, feature stories etc.)
11. Strategic Communications Planning and Execution
12. Virtual Productions

Constabulary Communications
Network

WH

FULL-TIME STAFF

The Constabulary Communications Network recruits members based on competence and capabilities, but individuals must also have a keen interest in journalism and journalistic endeavours, and display a strong sense of honesty and integrity. The recruitment of staff comes at the recommendations of the head of each department, however, finalisation is left to the managerial staff.

CCN staff must demonstrate an interest in/have a capacity for:

- Envisioning and articulating ideas to enhance media exposure of the JCF
- Creating sound speeches and talking points
- Communications programme development
- Media management and planning skills
- Good work-planning and logistics coordination
- Initiative, tact and decorum
- Good knowledge of computer application
- Knowledge of the organization's objectives, programmes and policies
- Knowledge of public relations practices and procedures

Members, through their respective functions, will ensure that:

- Public relations/education programmes/strategies are developed.
- Effective communication strategies are developed and implemented.
- Print and electronic media are monitored.
- News releases, speeches, briefs are prepared.
- Media coverage, press briefings, receptions and other special events are arranged.
- Online platforms are maintained.

Training

The CCN is responsible for ensuring that factual information and quality production is disseminated to the public. As such all members must be acclimatised through professional training, to develop skills, knowledge and expertise in all sections of the Unit. Some of these training areas are:

1) Newsroom & Social Media

Staff will:

- Be trained by the Senior Communications Strategist in interviewing and events coverage, release writing and copy editing.
- Embark on shadowing sessions in other departments
- Complete two editing sessions with the Editor-in-chief, after which an assessment will be conducted of four releases drafted by each individual. This includes sending the article to the Editor-in-chief for review prior to the assessment and story deadline to discuss areas for improvement and good habits. The four releases must include:
 - Murder
 - Ananda Alert (to include all protocols)
 - Firearm recovery
 - A public piece
 - Embark on one shadowing session in other departments

2) Videography and Photography

Staff must:

- Complete video editing sessions with a staff editor or an approved trainer.
- Complete three assignments to include event coverage, capturing appropriate shots, multiple camera transition, uploading raw footage, editing, exporting and labelling.

- Complete two shadowing sessions with a senior photographer, to include culling (so as to maximize storage), editing, captioning and labeling photos.
- Complete six assignments on shoot settings, photo capturing, culling, editing and labelling.
- Write a short staff biography and capture headshots of two members of staff for grading.

3) Visual Communication

Staff are required to:

- be trained by senior graphics and layout artist over a period of eight months.
- complete four shadowing sessions with specific focus on logo, design and photo placement
- electronic and mechanical systems to create designs for equipment, print publications, and the Internet
- Complete an additional 2 weeks of shadowing sessions with the design editor
- Complete six (6) graphic illustration assignments to include a visualization of data.
- Complete two review sessions with the design editor

All members or potential members are introduced to the various sections of the Unit, to include publications, videography, photography and research with a period of three (3) weeks at each section to gain a basic understanding of the responsibilities of each department.

INTERNS

The work of the CCN is further supported by Interns whom we accept from tertiary institutions. An internship at the CCN offers an opportunity to work with one of the most vibrant and public-facing communication agencies within arguably the most tactile organisation in the country. The candidate will gain real-world experience in a fast past industry that is critical to national development.

The intern is expected to not only bear at least a basic understanding of the discipline of communications, but also – and perhaps more importantly – demonstrate a willingness to learn, an energetic and enthused spirit, and the ability to multitask, produce quality results under minimal supervision, respond positively under pressure and work smart.

Interns will be exposed to and support the communications efforts under the following CCN portfolio areas:

Brand Communications

- Creating opportunities for members' appreciation of brand JCF.
- Identifying brand conformities and engaging in remedial action with the member/division that has committed the breach.
- Assisting with collateral procurement and, event planning and decor

Digital Communications

- Creating, packaging and delivering digital content for our online platforms - Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and the JCF Website.
- Executing virtual productions of select events and event live streaming.
- Monitoring online external influencers and online conversations about the organisation, its members, auxiliaries and National Security, and reporting potentially damaging ones to the CCN's leadership.

- Monitoring the effectiveness of our owned media channels through quantitative and qualitative analytics reporting; identifying gaps and opportunities; and employing creative engagement solutions as may be required.

Visual Communications

- Capturing the JCF's stories through still and moving lens, and packaging for internal and external consumption.
- Coordinating photo and video shoots to maintain a current upkeep of our stock files.
- Producing inspired artwork to include, but not limited to, Infographics, Brochures, Flyers, Ads, Magazines, Programmes, Reports, Presentations, Signs etc.
- Ensuring adherence to the management of digital assets, through the care of equipment (while in-use and while in storage) and the correct cataloguing of photos and videos.

Media Relations

- Preparing, writing, editing and distributing press releases, advisories and photo captions.
- Identifying opportunities for approved spokespersons to engage with the media.
- Managing media at in-person and virtual events.
- Conceptualising and (upon approval) pitching JCF exclusives to media partners, such as the JIS' National Security PR Coordinator and other journalists and media.
- Addressing media queries through appropriately prepared responses, or by alerting the CCN's leadership to such requests.
- Monitoring earned media coverage.
- Maintaining a current contact list of journalists and media houses.
- Assisting with the coordination of press interface occasions such as Press Briefings and Conferences.

Internal Communications

- Maintaining close contact with JCF's Communications Liaisons to glean stories of public and member interest

- Engaging with Internal Influencer Groups on the awareness, promotion and execution of in-house or corporate campaigns and programmes
- Providing guidance and assistance to internal clients (Divisions/Areas etc.) on the development and execution of their locally-based projects/programmes
- Supporting internal clients with written products to include, but not limited to, speeches, messages, newsletters, executive profiles, communications plans, event scripts etc.

Other

- Participating in production and team meetings.
- General administrative and communications support as assigned.

COMMUNICATIONS LIAISON OFFICERS

The Communications Liaison Officer (CLO) is the link between the Constabulary Communications Network (CCN), the wider JCF and the communities it serves. Through coordination with and guidance from the CCN, the Communications Liaison Officer will be engaged as follows.

HOW

INTEGRATED MARKETING AND COMMUNICATIONS PORTFOLIO

INTRODUCTION

The Integrated Marketing and Communications Portfolio carries out the day-to-day functions required to meet the objectives of the unit. It consists of the following departments:

- Technical
- Newsroom
- Visual Communication
- Digital Communication

The three departments perform assigned tasks which come together as a whole to meet the objectives set by the senior management team of the unit.

THE TECHNICAL DEPARTMENT

The Technical Department houses the ‘hard’ skills involved in the creative communications process. This includes the broad disciplines of photography and videography, and also encompasses the full gamut of the creative process from conceptualization to distribution. Thus, the department carries out other functions such as script writing, storyboarding, sound design, photo and video editing, among others.

The department is also responsible for several functions necessary to support the processes of the department, such as the management and maintenance of a digital library.

THE NEWSROOM

The newsroom is responsible for communicating with the media on behalf of the Force and producing written or long form content in support of the public relations objectives of the department. The newsroom also supports the administration of the department through the maintenance of force records such as the station diary.

VISUAL COMMUNICATION

The visual communication team creates high quality graphics and motion graphics for use in both digital and print media, liaising with other internal departments to capture the intended messaging and strategically defined vision of the force.

DIGITAL COMMUNICATION

The digital communication department is responsible for the maintenance of the force’s digital assets, such as social media channels, the JCF website and JCF digital signage. The team liases with the visual communication department and the technical department to produce meaningful, impactful and purpose-driven audio-visual content.

Operating Guidelines

The following pages outline general guidelines and standard operating procedures to be adopted by each department.

TECHNICAL DEPARTMENT PROCEDURES

In capturing assignments ALL members of the Constabulary Communications Network have a responsibility to ensure that a professional image is maintained at all times. The following procedures must be strictly adhered to. Any situation which necessitates any deviation from the established procedures must be reported to the Technical Team manager for review.

BEFORE THE ASSIGNMENT

- Attend briefing and ensure the task is understood and the deliverables are clearly communicated.
- Request appropriate equipment from the Station Guard. Also request that batteries are charged, etc.
- Upon receipt of equipment, check to ensure it is functional. Where internal storage is to be used on the item, ensure space is available for the assignment.
- Where necessary, request memory cards and test in the item to be used. Ensure the size of the memory card is sufficient.
- Conduct site visit where appropriate. Adequate considerations should be given to the location and team leader should make appropriate judgement. Where additional equipment or manpower is deemed to be needed, the technical team manager or IMC manager should be informed.
- Determine the format for video recording, photo and audio recordings, giving proper consideration of the impact of each choice on storage capacity
 - Videos recordings should be 1080p or higher
 - Photoshoots are done in .raw
 - Events are done in .jpeg
 - Audio recordings are done in...

ON THE DAY OF THE ASSIGNMENT

- Ensure that all equipment is properly accounted for by the station guard and station officer or the manager of the Technical Department.
- Once on location, obtain a copy of program/proceedings run-sheet for post-production purposes. Take picture of it also. The picture should be uploaded with the event files. (see below, AFTER THE ASSIGNMENT)
- In the case of assignments that require video, the event should be recorded on an independent audio device as well as the video camera.

- Test set-up equipment for lighting, microphone audio quality, and ensure that microphone cables are properly placed for safety and to avoid tripping or annoyance. This should be completed at least half an hour before the start of the assignment.
- Always remember mandatory shots for both photo and video: Location shot, persons present, proceedings, key speech, awards, and creative recordings where necessary.
- Adopt a proactive position for all assignments

AFTER COMPLETING AN ASSIGNMENT

- Check to make sure that all equipment carried are properly accounted for, properly locked away in appropriate cases or approved traveling methods.
- Return to base.
- Hand over all equipment to the station guard
- Upload all recorded materials (properly labelled) to specified storage location
- Complete CCN assignment log sheet. (See specimen in Appendix 1) Under comments, include the team member's picks for best shots and their possible uses. Inform archive manager and technical team manager that the data is available for use.
- Archivist sorts and tags content, with reference to the Assignment Log Sheet. The Digital Manager, Newsroom Manager and IMC Manager are informed via.... that process is complete.
- End users (in consultation with, and on instruction of IMC manager) will select images that are needed, with consideration of suggestions from the Archivist.
- Selected images/videos are submitted to photo editor/video editor for editing.
- Photo editor/Video editor edits photos/photos and re-uploads the images/videos to the server. The end user is informed that the photos are available for use.
- End users access photos and they are used for desired purpose.

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENTS: PLANNED PRODUCTIONS

Planned assignments include video and/or photo-based assignments that are conducted in support of a campaign being undertaken by the unit or periodic recurring events such as press conferences, national holidays, organizational observances such as Police Week as well as official and state funerals.

In these events, compliance must be maintained with the procedures outlined above. However, other parts of the production process may play a more pronounced role when executing these duties. In these instances, the additional functions will be directed by the technical team manager in conjunction with the IMC manager. These include, but are not limited to:

The Newsroom Department Procedures

The job of the newsroom is to gather and disseminate information about incidents coming to the attention of the police which may be of interest to the public. Therefore, the newsroom team members should aim, at all times to be ‘in the know’ about all activities in which the police are involved, and the results of these activities.

This includes, but is not limited to the following categories of incidents:

- 1. Murder
- 2. Fatal Crashes
- 3. Incidents of fire that result in death or serious loss/damage
- 4. Freak Accidents aka Death by Misadventure
- 5. Firearm/Ammunition Seizures
- 6. Suicides
- 7. Police Investigations and operations

The newsroom is operated 24/7. It has two eight-hour shifts and one 10-hour, overlapping shift. Team members perform assigned roles on a rotational basis on designated shifts. Shifts are determined by the newsroom manager through the designated duty officer. The roles are as follows:

Newsroom manager

- Has overall responsibility for the newsroom
- Liaises with IMC manager, social media amanager and technical team manager to accomplish objectives set by senior management.

Station Officer

- Has overall responsibility for the staff on the shift
- Conducts briefing and assigns tasks to team members
- Assists team members with difficult cases
- Oversees the activities of the station guard
- Conducts end of shift debriefing and reporting

Station Guard

- Ensures equipment is properly stored
- Performs any routine maintenance requested for equipment by the technical team

- Ensures equipment is accessed by authorized persons only
- Maintains the station diary in accordance with established organizational guidelines
- Maintains daily assigned records

The main tool of communication employed by the newsroom is the news release. News Releases have a number of important attributes which the newsroom team must bear in mind.

1. News releases are legal documents. This means they are admissible in court as evidence. Therefore, team members must ensure at all times that information contained in the news release is factual and free from any form of bias.
2. News releases represent the corporate identity that is the Jamaica Constabulary Force and/or the Commissioner of Police. Due consideration must therefore be given to tone.

Sources of Information

Police Emergency Communication Centre

The Police Emergency Communication Centre (PECC) is the main source of information for the newsroom team members. This is because all police operations and patrols report to the PECC. Thus, the PECC is a centralized hub where police personnel in all geographic as well as operations-based non-geographic formations report their activities.

The PECC shares information about major crimes and incidents with the top-tier management of the JCF in the form of a report.

The report is made available to the CCN on request.

Station Records

Official station records are another source of information for the newsroom team members. In fact, they may be the most important. This is because they represent the closest thing to a first-hand account of incidents. For this reason, reports received from Police Emergency are always cross-checked with station records. Where discrepancies are found, the nod is always given to the station records.

Station records include, but are not limited to: the station diary, missing person register, traffic accident register.

Divisional Morning Incident Reports

Divisional morning incident reports are received via email from respective divisions. As a rule, the information contained in these reports is also cross-checked with official station records.

Investigation Officer

The investigating officer is an important source of information. Whereas the station diary is an official, legal source of information, the investigating officer is a reliable source for up-to-date information as well as details and background about cases, which may not necessarily be recorded in the station diary.

Crime Officer

As the person based at the divisional level with oversight of all criminal investigations, the crime officer is another source of information. The crime officer should always be consulted when requests are received for the publication of wanted persons and persons of interest. He/She may also be contacted for insights and updates when the investigating officer is unavailable or in high-profile cases when the release of information requires a higher level of authorization.

Shift Commander

As per force policy, Shift Commanders represent the officer in charge of the division on the ground. They work in a rotational basis, usually two shifts per day. The shift commander has full command of all personnel on duty during his tour of duty, as well as other assets, such as vehicles. He is also the first contact within the division if any major incidents arise, and all incidents are reported to him/her. Against this background, the shift commander is a useful source of information, especially for keeping abreast of incidents as they unfold

Divisional Commander

JCF policy dictates that most incidents are reported to the divisional commander within 24h hours. He is also given updates on all issues within the division weekly. Therefore, when the normal channels of information bear no fruit, the divisional commander can be contacted. Discretion should be used when utilising this source of information.

Other Police Personnel

Other police persons are to be utilised when seeking specialised information. For example, when writing features, it may be useful to consult experts in the field.

Disseminating Information

The newsroom worker will disseminate a wide array of information to a variety of persons. This is done either via the telephone or via email.

Email

Select categories of news releases are shared with the news media via email throughout the day. Emails are sent to the 'Media Group' which is the listing of all media in our contact list.

Missing persons and public advisories are sent immediately on receipt due to the nature and urgency of these releases.

The categories of news releases that are generally sent are:

- ☐ Firearm and ammunition seizures
- ☐ Fatal crashes
- ☐ Death by Misadventure or freak incidents
- ☐ Suicides
- ☐ Police investigations and operations updates
- ☐ Public advisory
- ☐ Wanted persons
- ☐ Missing persons
- ☐ Safety tips

Telephone

The newsroom team member will receive many calls requesting various types of information.

Calls from the Media

1. Where the call is from a member of the media fraternity requesting information that falls into the categories of news releases that are routinely prepared by the unit, the team member will share the requested news release using the caller's requested medium after receiving approval from the shift supervisor.
2. Where the information requested falls into a category routinely covered by the unit, but a news release is unavailable, the member worker will:
 - a. After checking with the supervisor to ensure the task is not already assigned to someone else, complete the steps related to preparing a news release.
 - b. Seek approval from the shift supervisor to share the news release with the customer using the requested medium.
3. Where the information requested falls outside of the categories routinely covered by the unit, but is not exempt as per the provisions of the Access to Information Act and the Official Secrets Act, the newsroom worker will:
 - a. After checking with the supervisor to ensure the task is not already assigned to someone else, complete the steps related to preparing a news release.
 - b. Confer with the shift supervisor to determine whether or not a news release should be prepared.
 - c. On advice on the shift supervisor, either
 - i. prepare the news release and share using the customer's requested medium OR
 - ii. share the information via telephone with the customer

Preparing News Releases

Upon receipt of the Morning Incident Report, On the Ball Report, Special On the Ball Report, Morning Crime Charge Log Report or any other form of communication from Senior Management or Police Emergency Communication Centre, teams members must follow the below steps:

Preparing News Releases:

1. Make contact with the relevant police station; identify yourself and where you are calling from. If possible, always elect to speak with the investigation officer.
2. Confirm the information, paying keen attention to the basic details. Be sure to check the spelling of the names of people and places.
3. Navigate to the Newsroom Server and locate the folder of the present year and month. Locate the file called 'News Release Head' and open.
4. In the Microsoft Word window, choose File and then Save As
5. Save the file in the following format: Month. Date (next letter in alphabet).Year -Incident Category In Division Name. Name of Deceased or Name of Witness.
 - a. Example: Jan.06a.22 – Murder in St. Andrew – John Doe
6. Prepare the release, paying attention to grammar. Also remember that the overarching aim is to highlight the actions of the police.
7. Save the news release.
8. Do a spell check, and then run an additional check using the online editor, Grammarly. Save all changes.
9. Ensure the release is vetted by all members of the shift and then inform the shift supervisor that the news release is available for editing and further action.
10. No release is to be shared without being vetted and without the knowledge of the shift supervisor.

Feature/Research Stories:

- Choose project
- Make contact with relevant person/s

- Have release vetted by the Editor in chief who will disseminate release.

Missing Persons

- When a missing person's report is received by dispatch, email, tipline or any other means - the recipient must log same in our missing person log. The name of the officer as well as the date and time must also be noted.
- The recipient must promptly contact the relative listed, or the police station to ascertain whether the person is still missing.
- If the person is still missing a missing person release must be prepared to be sent to the stakeholders, including the media immediately.
- Have release vetted by the Editor in chief who will disseminate release.
- Share photograph and news release with the graphics team for design and sharing with the social media team.
- Resize photo in Photoshop to 10x10 inches for the website.
- Have the Website monitor update the website with the release along with the photograph.
- When a missing person returns, a release must be prepared and sent.
- Social Media and website platforms must be updated to reflect same.

Witness for Court Publication

When a job request is received whether dispatch, email, WhatsApp or any other means, the recipient must:

- Verify and ensure all the information required is available – name of witness or witnesses, last known address/es, the court that the person is required to attend, the date that the person is required to attend court, the name and division of the officer who is making the request and a working contact number for the officer and his/her police station.
- Advise the person requesting of the role they play (Checking the print and online media for the publication.
- Log request in witness for court book.
- Prepare release
- Have release vetted by the Editor in chief who will disseminate release
- Check witness for court log daily and ensure each publication is sent at least three (3) times before the listed court date
- When final release is sent, request the witness for court certification for the court from the CCN General Office.

Police Seek Assistance in Identifying Bodies

When a job request is received whether dispatch, email, WhatsApp or any other means, the recipient must:

- Must obtain all information relating to the person's death (day, date, time and location of death and circumstances)

- Obtain description of the body and its clothing
- Obtain which police station or unit is requesting the publication and a working contact number for both the investigator and police station.
- Prepare release
- Have release vetted by the Editor in chief/senior supervisor who will disseminate release

Monitoring Webmail

- Check/refresh the CCN webmail every fifteen minutes.
- Once an email is received that requires a response, respond promptly.
- If the email needs to be sent to another unit, do so immediately; so email will require the attention and onward transmission by a senior manager, the supervisor will guide the process.

Monitoring CUG

- Ensure CUG is charged at all times
- Check WhatsApp on CUG at 15-minute intervals
- Respond to WhatsApp messages
- Action WhatsApp messages

Monitor Website

- Check what was previously published on website
- Read through news release file.
- Update website accordingly with information from news release files.

Answering telephone

- Apply all rules of quality customer service delivery and the Police Public Interaction Policy.
 - Greet clients using a positive tone, remember to identify yourself and your unit.
 - Listen to the caller's words carefully and clarify their exact needs.
 - Handle your calls in a sincere and genuine manner.
 - Use a language that your clients understand best to create a natural conversation rather than communicating over the phone using a rigid script.
 - Use complaints to repair client relationships rather than create conflict.
 - Aim to leave your customer satisfied.

Police in the News (RJR Program)

- Extract public interest and high level news releases from file.
- Compile extracted releases every Wednesday (if anything happens on Thursday that is considered important the file must be updated and sent before 3:00 p.m. that day.
- Prepare talking points
- Submit to the presenters

Other Television & Radio Interviews

Commanding Officer or designate will decide who will address the media and appropriate treatment.

The Digital Communication Department Procedures

Reports received from Police Emergency Communication Centre

Stories received from the Morning Crime Report, the 9:00 a.m., 12:00 p.m., 3:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. On the Ball Reports and Charge Log, once vetted, confirmed and written in News Release format on the server are given the following treatment:

1. The title of the story is placed on the 'News Release Template' using Photoshop
2. The 'News Release Template' with the Title of the story is saved as a .jpeg or .png
3. The story and the new 'News Release Template' are then uploaded to social media sites.

Proactive communications & campaigns

Strategic communication is at the heart of what the Constabulary's Social Media team does. Proactive communications sometimes take the form of digital campaigns, that employ marketing strategy across all the digital channels where consumers engage with a brand, usually for the purpose of improving a company's image. These campaigns are usually done via our Instagram, Facebook, Twitter and YouTube page.

The campaigns are usually developed and executed via the following steps:

Step 1: Choose Your End Goal

Step 2: Set Your Campaign Budget

Step 3: Identify Your Target Audience

Step 4: Design Your Content (Graphic Artist)

Step 5: Choose Your Channels.

Step 6: Launch and Monitor

Step 7: Analyse the Result (Hootsuite Analytics as well as analytics from each platform and YouTube algorithm)

Missing Persons

Missing Persons reports are received via several different medium. Theses medium include: the WhatsApp messages via the Newsroom CUG, JCF email, dispatch and telephone called (in unique circumstances). When they are received the Newsroom team firstly handles them; a story completed and disseminated via email to the media houses. Once this process is complete the Social Media Team does the following:

1. Critical information, to include the name, age, and description of the missing person is placed on the 'Ananda Alert Template' using Photoshop
2. The 'Ananda Alert Template' with the information is saved as a .jpeg or .png
3. The Template and supporting story are then uploaded to Twitter, Facebook and Instagram via Hootsuite or directly via mobile device.
4. Once a missing person is found, the images are removed from the pages and an updated artwork provided with information that the person is found.

Human Interest

A human interest story puts people at the heart of the events. Doing this brings a two-fold benefit. It gives the online audience someone to relate to and taps into our natural curiosity in the lives of others, in this case the police. Human interest stories come to us via the media, word of mouth, telephone calls and sometimes informal interactions. Although the CCN prides itself in high quality imagery these stories sometime come in the form of a snap from a civilian's cellular phone. On the images are collected the following is done:

1. An appropriate caption is devised and the hashtags that will increase traction
2. Both the photo (or collage) and caption are then sent out

Live Events

Live content updates are captured and shared for posterity allowing our content to be found on a variety of our own platforms. Additionally, it allows our followers to feel a part of the live action, increasing opportunities increased engagements.

Wanted Persons

Wanted Persons reports are generally received via email, after they are vetted and approved by CIB Headquarters or the ACP in charge of the geographical area.

1. Critical information, to include the name, age, and description of the wanted person is placed on the 'Wanted Wednesdays Template' using Photoshop
2. The 'Wanted Wednesdays Template' with the information is saved as a .jpeg or .png
3. The Template and supporting story are then uploaded to Twitter, Facebook and Instagram via Hootsuite.

Persons of Interest

1. Critical information, to include the name, age, and description of the wanted person is placed on appropriate Template', by the graphic artist, using Photoshop.
2. Information is saved as a JPG or PNG and shared with the social media team
3. Content is then uploaded by the social media handlers

Operations

- Approved images from various operational activities are uploaded to our social media pages. Approval is done by a senior supervisor or a manager.
- Edited videos are shared on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and YouTube

Responding To Questions/Comments/Queries

- Messages are received via the inbox on the social media platforms are responded to immediately via automated messaging.
- The messages are then triaged and a response provided within 24 hours when it is not an emergency.
- A history of the messages and the responses is kept for future reference.

All content must be routed through the sub-officer in-charge of Operations for approval for posting to be given. Additionally, stories that do not fit into these categories are treated with the most appropriate remedy.

OFFICIAL SECRETS ACTS

DECLARATION

Declaration to be signed by members of Government Departments on appointment where desirable, by non-civil servants on first being given access to Government information.

My attention has been drawn to the provisions of the Official Secrets Acts, which are set out on the back of this document, and I am fully aware of the serious consequences which may follow any breach of those provisions.

I understand that the sections of the Official Secrets Acts, set out on the back of this document, cover material published in a speech, lecture, or radio or television broadcast, or in the Press or in book form. I am aware that I should not divulge any information gained by me as a result of my appointment to any unauthorised person, either orally or in writing, without the previous official sanction in writing of the Department appointing me, to which written application should be made and two copies of the proposed publication be forwarded. I understand also that I am liable to be prosecuted if I publish without official sanction any information I may require in the course of my tenure of an official appointment (unless it has already officially been made public) or retain without official sanction any sketch, plan, model, article, or official documents which are no longer needed for my official duties, and that these provisions apply not only during the period of my appointment but also after my appointment has ceased.

Date.

EXTRACT FROM THE OFFICIAL SECRETS ACTS. 1911 AND 1920

Section 2 of the Official Secrets Act, 1911, as amended by the Official Secrets Act, 1920 provides as follows:-

"1. U any person having in his possession or control any secret official code, word, or pass word, or any sketch, plan, model, article, note, document, or information which relates to or is used in s prohibited place or anything in such a place, or which has been made or obtained in contravention of this Act, or which has been entrusted in confidence to him by any person holding office under tier Majesty, or as a person who holds or has held a contract made on behalf of Tier Majesty, or as a person wBo,is or has been employed under a person who holds or has held such an office or contract:-

- (a) communicates the code word, pass word, sketch, plan, model, article, note, document, or information to any person, other than a person to whom he is authorised to communicate it, or a person to whom it is in the interests of the State his duty to communicate it, or (aa) uses the information in his possession for the benefit of any foreign power or in any other manner prejudicial to the safety or interests of the state;
- Q) retains the sketch, plan, model, article, note or document in his possession or control when he has no right to retain it or when it is contrary to his duty to retain it or fails to comply with all directions issued by lawful authority with regard to the return or disposal thereof, or
- (c) fails to take reasonable care of, or so conducts himself as to endanger the safety of the sketch, plan, model, article, note, document, secret official code or pass word or information; that a person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(1A) If any person having in his possession or control any sketch, plan, model, article, note, document, or information which relates to munitions of war, communicates it directly or indirectly to any foreign power, or in any other manner prejudicial to thee safety or interests of the State, that person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(2) If any person receives any secret official code word or pass word, or sketch, plan, model, article, note, document, or information, knowing, or having reasonable ground to believe, at the same time when he received it, that the code word, pass word, sketch, plan, model, article, note, document or information is communicated to him in contravention of this Act, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, unless he proves that the tommunication to him of the code word, pass word, sketch, plan, model, article, note, document, or information was contrary to his desire."

Section 1(2) of the Official Secrets Act, 1920 provides as follows: "(2) If any person:

OVERVIEW

A series of community visits are to be scheduled as part of the JCF's Stakeholder Engagement Plan over the next months in each of the 14 parishes across Jamaica. The series began in August 2019, with the visit to Trelawny and will see at least one such engagement per quarter. Parishes will be chosen strategically in keeping with intelligence and JCF priorities.

PURPOSE

The community tours are designed to:

- ❖ Increase the visibility at the level of communities
- ❖ Build and strengthen positive relationships with parochial, community and civil society institutions and organizations
- ❖ Foster inclusion and participation of communities in planning for local security
- ❖ Build and solidify confidence in the JCF and its members
- ❖ Garner the support of the Jamaican citizenry for local and national policing
- ❖ Actively demonstrate that the JCF is a listening organization
- ❖ Keep ComPol and members of the High Command abreast of issues within communities
- ❖ Share the central message – “Force for Good”/“Help us to Keep you Safe”
- ❖ Enhance intelligence gathering in communities

SCOPE

Each community visit will comprise at least one full day of activities to include:

- ❖ Select community walk and community meeting
- ❖ Chamber of Commerce meeting
- ❖ Divisional High Command Meeting
- ❖ Station visits (one or two depending on logistics)
- ❖ Town Hall Meeting
- ❖ Local pop-up visits: schools, youth club, markets, a church service, taxi stands, lockups,

Round robins, social activities - fairs, concerts, sporting fixtures (depending on logistics and focus)

The activities for each parish will be dependent on the specific profile of that parish and its areas of focus for policing - for example craft markets in tourism towns, taxi stands where there are major ones, beaches where harassment is prevalent, town centres, housing schemes where there are major break ins etc. Pop ups will be planned and strategically chosen but not announced or listed on the public itinerary. Where there is a police sporting team (dominoes, football, netball, cricket) arrange for a game with mixed sides (COMPOL to choose his sport and may participate at will).

PLANNING AND PREREQUISITES

Setting Dates

Dates to be set in accordance with COMPOL's schedule. Ideally, if all fourteen dates (two days each) can be pre-selected to allow for advanced planning

Reconnaissance

For community walks, meetings and Town Hall meeting :

Logistical reconnaissance is required prior to each community tour to determine:

- ❖ Key community persons to be invited to the meetings (Divisional Commanders to advise)
- ❖ Route of walk/tour to be based on recommendations from the Divisional Commanders
- ❖ Timed route (on foot and by car)
- ❖ Rest stops
- ❖ Best time/dates/days of the week to visit based on community 'rhythms'
- ❖ Whistle stop at central point in community (bar, community centre, church market)
- ❖ Local influencers, leaders, 'celebrity' members (by name and notoriety)
- ❖ Top community teams (names and sport)
- ❖ Specific local security related concerns to be addressed - with details - names of persons affected, recent oCCNrrrences, details of oCCNrrrences for talking points (eg praedial larceny, rape, domestic violence, mental health challenges etc)

For Chambers of Commerce meetings:

- ❖ Full list of executive (intelligence reports where required)
- ❖ Brief on the main commercial activities in that area (tourism, agriculture, retail, entertainment, mining etc)
- ❖ Impact and identification of specific crimes in specific areas (extortion/corruption/scamming/ burglary etc)
- ❖ Brief on challenges facing commercial sector
- ❖ General background on the Chamber -
 - Recent change of executive?
 - Previous executive leaders
 - Strategic plans of the organization
 - Needs assessment/Impact of crime on specific areas of business

Pop Ups and Whistle Stops:

- ❖ Names of community/school/church leaders and influencers
- ❖ Background on institution
- ❖ Names of persons who must be addressed by name and spoken to or about in that space and background information about them that can be mentioned in a conversation.

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

Intelligence report

Detailed reports with current crime statistics are to be provided on the parish to be visited in keeping with JCF requirements. Determination of ‘centre of gravity

Divisional & Community Policing Plan

COMPOL is to receive a summary of the divisional and community policing plan for three months prior to and three months following the visit to include:

- The priority areas of focus and activities already planned
- List, with community activity details (eg fixtures, calendar of events) of activities planned and dates of the events

Divisional Deficiencies

COMPOL's report on the division and community policing should include:

- Possible complaints against the police in the area.
- Infrastructural and resource deficiencies
