Introduction

The Caribbean Search Centre (CSC) is a department under the Faculty of Operations Management and Skills Training (FOMST), at the National Police College of Jamaica (NPCJ), which is a branch of the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF). The members of the Caribbean Search Centre are drawn from three (3) different facets of the Ministry of National Security, namely: the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF), Jamaica Defence Force (JDF) and the Department of Correctional Services (DCS).

The objectives of the CSC are:

- To assist police divisions, formations and other law enforcement agencies in executing systematic search operations professionally, safely, efficiently and legally, without causing collateral damage or disruption to routine activities.
- Equipping law enforcement agencies in the English speaking Caribbean with the requisite competencies to reduce criminal capabilities and activities related to the use of as well as the transshipment of illegal drugs, arms and ammunition and other contraband through the ports.
- To provide training in Systematic Search Techniques and advice to regional law enforcement agencies.

Course Rationale

The Systematic Search Course is designed to broaden the knowledge of law enforcement personnel in executing legal, systematic, thorough and non-stereotype searches. Search becomes important because of the enormity of the current problems in the Caribbean region with criminal elements, and the need for increased training of law enforcement personnel to conduct the fight.

It requires a coordinated regional approach. The Centre is therefore committed to the philosophy that says “training makes perfect”. It follows that continuous training and development of law enforcement officers will serve to build greater levels of competencies, motivation and commitment, improve effectiveness and efficiency and ultimately lead to increased productivity.

Programme Description

The Systematic Search Course was designed to train Law Enforcement personnel from Jamaica and the Caribbean region in the concept of systematic non-disruptive searches. Search techniques designed for Person, Vehicle, Building and Area are the main focus. The Course is taught over a two weeks period. The outcomes of the different units of the course are geared towards improving knowledge, competencies and skills in Search Techniques, Authority to Search, Human Rights, Exhibit Handling, Drug Identification, Team Work and applying the correct technique for the different searches. The course includes limited amount of theory. Greater emphasis is placed on practical search techniques.

At the end of the course students would have acquired the necessary knowledge skills and aptitude required for planning, organizing and executing successful search operations. Participants that successfully complete this course are given certificates approved by the National Police College of Jamaica (NPCJ).

The Centre offers sixteen (16) units of study, however, not all units may be applicable to the different Law Enforcement Agencies, (see course structure).
