1.0 INTRODUCTION

The Child Interaction Policy and Procedures is a manifestation of the Jamaica Constabulary Force's commitment and multiple efforts to uphold human rights; particularly to lift professional standards to meet the organization's responsibilities in supporting the best interests of children. Members of the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF) have legal and ethical obligations to operate in accordance with domestic laws and international conventions, such as the Child Care and Protection Act, 2004 and the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC) to protect and safeguard child rights during encounters with all persons under the age of 18 years.

This document which was developed with technical support from the Caribbean Child Development Centre of the University of the West Indies, Open Campus and financial and technical support from the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), is in keeping with JCF's strategic priority: "Enhance Respect for Human Rights and Human Dignity". The process involved consultations with JCF members, State and non-governmental partners, children, parents and other stakeholders. It also represents a critical component of the holistic Child Rights Sustainability Initiative being implemented across the Constabulary which includes capacity building through rights-based training, programming and the development of an effective monitoring and evaluation system.

2.0 PURPOSE

The policy sets guidelines and protocols for occasions in which members interact with persons below the age of eighteen years. It aims to make every police encounter with a child a positive one, in which protective and corrective action is taken, and both sides emerge with dignity and respect.

3.0 SCOPE

This Policy applies to all sworn and unsworn members of the JCF and covers all police interactions with children under the age of 18 years. These interactions are broken into two broad categories:

- 3.1 Interactions with children in the justice system as:
- i. children in conflict with the law;
 - ii. children deemed to be in need of care and protection;

- iii. children perceived by their parents/guardians as being ‘uncontrollable’ (presenting some level of behavioural challenges which exceed the parents’/guardians’ capabilities to handle); or
- iv. victims and witnesses.

3.2 Interactions with children as members of the community to include institutions and groups such as schools, youth clubs and other community based organizations.

8.0 STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES

The following are the procedural guidelines of the JCF that members must adhere to upon each interaction with a child.

8.1 Completing the Child Interaction Policy Form (CIP-1)

Upon every interaction with a child, the CIP-1 Form must be completed.

- 8.1.1 A CIP-1 form MUST be fully and accurately completed using block capital letters each time a member interacts with persons under the age of 18 years, under the following circumstances:

- i. children in conflict with the law
- ii. children deemed to be in need of care and protection
- iii. children perceived by their parents or guardians as being 'uncontrollable'
- iv. victims and witnesses.

- 8.1.2 Completed CIP-1 forms shall be forwarded to the Divisional Community Safety and Security office within 24 hours of being completed or the next working day after a weekend or public holiday.

- 8.1.3 Uploaded forms should be stored for validation purposes by the Divisional Community Safety and Security office.

8.2 Children in Conflict with the Law

Upon the arrest of a child who is in conflict with the law, the following procedures should be observed:

8.2.1 Notification

- 8.2.1.1 The child should be told of the reason for the arrest in plain and simple language that the child indicates he/she understands. Where necessary specialized assistance should be sought for children with special needs.

- 8.2.1.2 The child's parents or guardians should also be notified immediately (by appropriate means) of the arrest and the reason for the arrest, unless this may put the child at risk.

8.2.1.3 Inform the child's parent or guardian of the child's location, the name of the responsible member of the JCF, the phone number of the location at which the child is being held, and ascertain any special needs that the child may have.

8.2.1.4 The Child Protection and Family Services Agency (CPFSA), the Detention and Courts Division and where applicable the Combined Disabilities Association must be informed as soon as a child is taken into police custody.

8.2.1.5 Any subsequent transfer of the child to another location must be immediately communicated to the parent/guardian, the CPFSA and the Detention and Courts Division.

8.2.2 Need for Medical Attention

8.2.2.1 Child suspects having visible signs of injury or who upon being interviewed complain of illness must be taken immediately to the nearest public health facility for medical attention.

8.2.3 Right to Legal Representation

8.2.3.1 The interviewing of a child suspect must be conducted in the presence of an attorney-at-law except to obtain very basic information such as the name, age and address of the child, and name and contact information of parents/guardians. A child should not be compelled to confess or acknowledge guilt.

8.2.3.2 For an unrepresented child, immediate contact should be made with the OCA or a listed Duty Counsel.

8.2.4 Children in Police Custody

Children should only be placed in police custody as a last resort, and for the shortest possible time. Children in detention are presumed innocent and should be treated as such; therefore the following guidelines should be observed:

8.2.4.1 Children should only be placed in police lock-ups designated for children.

- 8.2.4.2 Where a child is detained but not charged within 24 hours, the child should be released into the care and custody of his/her parents or guardians once such release would neither jeopardize nor compromise the investigations, nor the well-being of the child.
- 8.2.4.3 Children in police custody, who are convicted, and those who are yet to be charged with an offence should be held separately from each other and from all other categories of children.
- 8.2.4.4 Children who have been remanded by the court and those who have been charged but are yet to face the court may be kept together.
- 8.2.4.5 Children of opposite sexes should not be placed in the same cell under no circumstance.
- 8.2.4.6 Under no circumstance should children and adults be kept in the same cell or be allowed to interact with each other.
- 8.2.4.7 The police should under no circumstance make public any information that would identify or assist in identifying a child in their custody.
- 8.2.4.8 Children in police custody should be allowed to maintain contact with their families and as such a flexible schedule for visitation should be maintained.
- 8.2.4.9 Restraint or force should only be used when the child poses an imminent threat of injury to himself/herself or others, and only when all other means of control have been exhausted. Restraint or force must never be used as a means of punishment.

8.2.5 Bail

Whenever a child is charged with a criminal offence, the police should without delay, consider the question of bail.

- 8.2.5.1 Where it is possible, the police should take the child forthwith before any Parish Court, whether in chambers or in open court (including Parish Judge who sit in civil courts).

8.2.5.2 Where the child cannot be brought forthwith before a court, the police shall:

- i. inform the Child Protection and Family Services Agency (CPFSA);
- ii. enquire into the case and may, in accordance with the Bail Act, release the child on a recognizance, unless:
 - a. the charge is one of murder or any other Second Schedule Offences in the Bail Act, 2000; or
 - b. it is in the child's interest to remove him/her from association with any convict, criminal suspect or prostitute; or
 - c. the police have reason to believe that the child's release would defeat the ends of justice or could otherwise cause injury or danger to the child.

8.2.5.3 Where a child cannot be brought forthwith before the court and cannot be released on recognizance due to the circumstances outlined in a-c above, the child should be taken within 24 hours of being charged or the first working day after a weekend or public holiday for the matter of bail to be determined.

8.2.5.4 Until such court appearance, the child should only be held in a police lock-up designated for children.

8.2.5.5 A child who is remanded in custody by the court should be transported immediately to the designated Juvenile Remand Centre specified in the commitment.

8.2.5.6 The police should not wait to complete a case file before taking the child before the court if the file cannot be completed within 24 hours of the charge.

8.2.6 Transportation

8.2.6.1 It is the responsibility of the police to transport children held in juvenile remand centres and police lock-ups to and from court.

8.2.6.2 Children should never be transported together with adult prisoners in the same vehicle; neither should male and female children be transported together.

8.2.6.3 Transportation duties should commence at an appropriate time to allow for the arrival of children at least 20 minutes before the opening of court. This is to afford them sufficient time to adjust and prepare for court appearance.

8.2.7 Court Appearance

8.2.7.1 A child over the age of twelve (12) who is charged jointly with an adult will have to face a regular Parish Court or Supreme Court, depending on the crime and the charge preferred. (See Section 72 (2) of the Child Care and Protection Act, 2004)

8.2.7.2 The parent/guardian of a child who is charged with an offence or is brought before a court for any other reason should be kept informed of court dates, especially the first mention date.

8.2.8 Children Under 12 Years

8.2.8.1 Given the age of criminal responsibility, children under the age of 12 years who are in conflict with the law cannot be charged with any offence and should therefore be treated as a child in need of care and protection.

8.3 Children in Need of Care and Protection

When dealing with situations involving children who are deemed to be in need of care and protection, the following procedures should be observed:

8.3.1 Children with visible signs of injury, or who upon being interviewed complain of illness must be taken without delay, to the nearest health facility for medical attention.

8.3.2 Where no medical attention is required, the child should be taken to an appropriately private and comfortable room at the police station to be interviewed in a child-sensitive manner.

8.3.3 Where applicable, steps should be taken to contact the child's parent/guardian with a view of furthering the investigations.

8.3.4 Where investigations reveal that the child is at risk and has to be taken into State care, contact should be made with the CPFSA representative for the area, who will make arrangements for the child to be received at a Place of Safety.

8.3.5 For the rural areas, outside of CPFSA's office hours, direct contact can be made with the nearest Place of Safety to secure such placement.

8.3.6 If there is a difficulty in securing placement at a place of safety, or through the efforts of the Detentions and Courts Division, the child should only be held at a police lock-up designated for children and should be separated from all other categories of children.

8.3.7 The child should be taken before a children's court or resident magistrate whether in open court or in chambers within 48 hours of being taken into care. The transportation of the child to and from the place of safety is the responsibility of the police.

8.4 Children perceived by Parents/Guardians as being 'Uncontrollable' (Presenting some level of behavioural challenges)

When a child is perceived by his/her parent or guardian to be 'uncontrollable', that is presenting some level of behavioural challenges and the matter is brought to the attention of the police, no such charge can be preferred by the police. In these instances the following steps should be adopted:

8.4.1 conduct an assessment of the situation relative to the concerns of the parent/guardian, while encouraging the child to express his/her views, fully, freely and respectfully.

8.4.2 offer the necessary guidance to the child and parent/guardian;

8.4.3 make an entry of the circumstances in the Children Caution Register (formerly Juvenile Caution Register); -

8.4.4 refer the parent/guardian to the family court or children's court where a representative from CPFSA, an intake officer or a counsellor should offer the necessary support and guidance.

8.5 Children as Victims and Witnesses

The police must be involved in, and promote a multi-agency approach in dealing with cases where children are victims and/or witnesses. As such, the following guidelines should be observed:

- 8.5.1 the police should respond without delay and in a sensitive manner to all reports involving children.
- 8.5.2 Generally, children who are victims of sexual offences and abuse should be referred to the Centre for the Investigation of Sexual Offences and Child Abuse (CISOCA), for the necessary investigations and appropriate referrals. However, in keeping with Force Orders No. 3562 Sub No. 2, dated 10/09/2015, uniformed police personnel must conduct investigations for the listed offences and where applicable make the necessary referrals.
- 8.5.3 Parents/guardians of child victim/witness should be notified immediately and be kept informed about the developments in the case.
- 8.5.4 Statements from children should be recorded without delay except where a written professional or expert opinion (medical or psychological) recommends otherwise. All statements must be recorded in the presence of a parent/guardian, or legal representative, except where it is alleged or suspected that the parent is the offender or may be complicit.
- 8.5.5 Where practicable, during the investigative process, investigators should avoid repetition of interviews or asking children to repeat factual details of complaints so as to prevent re-victimization of the child.
- 8.5.6 The police should not make public any information that would tend to identify a child as a victim or as a witness without the permission of the court. (See Section 44 of the Child Care and Protection Act, 2004).

8.6 Policing in Schools

It may become necessary at times for investigations and/or other law enforcement activities to be carried out in schools. However, with the exception of emergency circumstances, the police should seek to execute their duties in collaboration with the school administrators.

8.6.1 Entry into Schools

8.6.1.1 in schools which are involved in the ‘Safe School Programme’, the School Resource Officers (SRO’s) should be the first point of contact for investigators.

8.6.1.2 where there are no SROs, police personnel should be aware of the potential disruption of the educational process that their presence may cause, and should consider the necessity of such action based on:

- i. The immediacy to conduct the investigation, arrest or search.
- ii. The potential danger to persons;
- iii. The likelihood of destruction of evidence or other property.

8.6.2 Student Interview

8.6.2.1 when questioning student witnesses or victims, the police should have a school administrator or senior representative present.

8.6.2.2 when the questioned student is a suspect, a parent or guardian must be present during any interviews or questioning. The parent/guardian and student must both be advised of the student's rights.

8.6.3 Taking a Student into Custody

8.6.3.1 the police should make reasonable efforts to avoid making arrests or taking students into custody whilst on the school premises.

8.6.3.2 the police should not remove a student from school premises unless he/she is under arrest or with the consent of the student or his/her parent/ guardian.
