1.0 Jamaica Constabulary Force's Journey towards ISO 9001 Certification

An important aspect of our continued efforts at transformation and modernization is the integration of ISO 9001 standard into our internal processes to ensure quality service our external customers. The JCF's ISO 9001 certification demonstrates our commitment to quality service but, more importantly, sets that framework and enabling environment for every member to insist on achieving quality in every aspect of his/her tasks, duties and responsibilities.

2.0 QMS Scope

The services under the current scope for certification are crime investigation services, patrol and emergency response, community intervention services; station services and issuance of police records.

3.0 Success Factors

The evidence of success is demonstrated as follows:

- a. Certification to ISO 9001 for the HQ and selected sites;
- b. All personnel are operating to the defined standard of service quality;
- c. High/Improved customer satisfaction rate at the selected sites;
- d. There is a culture of quality within the organization due to change in mindset and behavior;
- e. Frontline staff becomes more efficient in-service delivery due to better integration of technology into the JCF's processes;
- f. Local and international stakeholders are interested in maintaining partnerships;
- g. International recognition of the JCF's effort in its commitment to service quality and peak performance;
- h. Leaders within the organization are trained in risk management and root cause analysis in order to become more risk-based and process oriented in their approach to management;
- i. Quality, and systems approach to management are entrenched within the organization; and
- j. Frontline staff becomes more aware of their roles and responsibilities because of increased access to more well-defined policies and procedures.

Against this background the organization has developed the Jamaica Constabulary Force Quality Management Policy. This policy outlines our commitment to quality; as well as creates a platform on which members' action will reflect the standards and quality of service to which our customers will become accustomed.

4.0 Background

Within the context of an organization, Quality Management includes inter alia, the adoption of process approach which places emphasis on the importance of not solely the understanding of, but more so, a commitment to the interrelated and interconnected processes necessary and desirable in order to improve customers' experience.

The Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF) is advancing its efforts to increase Quality Management in the many and varied services it offers to the public. This bold move to enhance quality management underlies our commitment to improve accountability and professional standards which has become the hallmark of law enforcement within contemporary democracies.

5.0 Purpose
