1.0. Introduction

The Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF) is committed to fostering a culture of continuous learning and professional development among its members. Training and capacity building serve as critical pillars in ensuring that law enforcement officers and key stakeholders are equipped with the requisite knowledge, technical expertise, and adaptive skills necessary to navigate the complexities of modern policing.

This document establishes the framework for managing training and developmental programmes within the JCF. It outlines a structured approach to ensure equitable access to training opportunities aligned with organizational objectives, legal mandates, and international best practices. The JCF remains a progressive law enforcement organisation dedicated to excellence.

2.0. Purpose

This document outlines the organization's framework for managing training and the range of developmental programmes geared towards improving individual knowledge, technical expertise and the ability to adapt and respond to constant changes in the environment. It also denotes the JCF's stance on training and capacity building for its members and key stakeholders through developing specialized training programmes to better equip members with the necessary skills, knowledge and aptitude to effectively and efficiently perform their functions.

3.0. Scope

This policy applies to all sworn and unsworn members of the JCF.

4.0. Policy Statement

The JCF's training philosophy includes competency, adaptability, accountability, and professional excellence. The organization believes that effective training is the foundation of a skilled and ethical police force, ensuring that officers can perform their duties confidently, integrity, and efficiently. Therefore, it is the policy of the JCF to:

- 4.1.1. Monitor the performance management through training needs analysis and/or, research of the organization and its environment.
- 4.1.2. Ensure that all members have equitable access to staff development opportunities appropriate to their role and aligned with the organization's objectives, laws, standards, and best practices of its local, regional, and international counterparts.
- 4.1.3. Strengthen existing partnerships with local, regional and international accreditation and quality standards organizations.
- 4.1.4. Infuse modern and advanced Information, Communication and Technology (ICT) in training programmes.
- 4.1.5. Maintain competent and efficient trainers to facilitate programmes; and
- 4.1.6. Monitor and evaluate training programmes provided by internal and external stakeholders.

5.0. Definitions

5.1. Accreditation is a process through which the NPCJ can deliver locally, regionally, or internationally recognized training.

5.2. Assessment

refers to all coursework (formative) and examinations (summative) done internally and externally. Assessment is the process of evaluating participants' performance to ascertain the extent to which they have met the prescribed learning outcomes of the task (and thus contribute to the achievement of the learning outcomes of the module/course/programme). Assessment enables participants to monitor their progress and determines the academic results in a module/course/programme.

5.3. Curricula/Course Outlines are the blueprint of courses or programmes. These outline the duration, credits, target population, entry requirements, legislative framework, aim, rationale, learning outcomes, certification, methods of delivery, module/course descriptions, topics, focus areas, specific objectives and reading materials, assessments, timetable and rubrics. Each course or programme must have a curriculum/course outline.

5.4. Mode, Method of Delivery or Modality refers to the method used to facilitate the training content. These may include, but are not limited to, instructor-led, on-the-job training, experiential learning, webinars, and mentoring.

5.5. Training Activities are structured pedagogical learning initiatives that enhance knowledge, skills, and competencies in specific areas. The term is designated for seminars, workshops, courses, and/or programmes delivered in-person, online, or hybrid training sessions:

- 5.5.1. Seminar: refer to station lectures, general information sessions that last 6 hours to 2 days
- 5.5.2. Workshop: a series of mini-lessons designed to address an immediate technical training or performance need. These include conferences and on-the-job training activities that last 3- 5 days.
- 5.5.3. Course: a subset of a programme consisting of modules and units lasting 1 to 13 weeks with a minimum of 45 hours (semester).
- 5.5.4. Programme: designation assigned to a group of courses with specific duration, credits and entry requirements lasting one or more semesters.

5.6. Training Proposals communicate the training objectives, scope, content, methodology, and expected outcomes to ACP Training for designing and developing or revising curricula/course outlines.

9.0. Standard Operating Procedures

The following outlines the procedure for selection, approval for training and education of members and key stakeholders:

9.1. Training Organization

- 9.1.1. The JCF recognizes the National Police College Jamaica (NPCJ as the primary agent for delivering training. It was established based on the recommendation of the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF) Strategic Review to consolidate its various training entities into a single coordinated body.
- 9.1.2. The NPCJ is registered as a Tertiary-Level Institution with accreditation from accrediting bodies such as the International Association of Directors of Law Enforcement Standards and Training (IADLEST), the University Council of Jamaica (UCJ), and the National Council on Technical and Vocational Education and Training (NCTVET). It offers professional and academic programmes, including certificates, diplomas, and degrees.
- 9.1.3. The NPCJ comprises four (4) faculties, namely:
 - a. Faculty of Initial and Probationer Training (FIPT)
The FIPT offers training to members of the public who would have met all the requirements to enter the basic training programme.

b. Faculty of Operations Management and Skills Training (FOMST)

FOMST gained its nomenclature in June 2001 as the faculty responsible for all driving, operational, tactical, and search-related training. This faculty forms the cornerstone of policing and has the mission of maintaining skilled and efficient police officers.

c. Faculty of Criminal Investigation Training (FaCIT)

The Faculty of Criminal Investigation Training is responsible for upskilling members of the Criminal Investigation Branch and ensuring the Jamaica Constabulary Force detective core.

d. Faculty of Leadership and Professional Development (FLPD)

The FLPD offers training in professional and academic studies. The professional section trains supervisors and junior and senior managers in all areas of law enforcement, while the academic section is open to civilians and law enforcement personnel.

9.2. Training Directives

From time to time the Commissioner's directives are promulgated in weekly Force Orders for the general information and guidance of members of the Force. Sometimes they contain orders for Formation Commanders to conduct station lectures over a specified period and to submit a report to the Police Headquarters thereafter.

9.3. Initial and Probationary Training

- a. Initial training takes place at the NPCJ campus(es)
- b. Intermediate and Internship Training occur in the JCF's Training Divisions, which are spread across parishes.
- c. Additionally, the faculty is responsible for all Constables who would have graduated from Initial Training but are still under probation.

9.4. Remedial/On-the-Job Training (Reorientation)

- a. Whenever a member who has returned to regular duties from secondment, suspension, interdiction, protracted sick leave and resignation for a minimum of 6 months shall undergo remedial training.
- b. The Administrative Officer shall make a recommendation to the Divisional Commander for such member under his/her command to attend remedial training immediately after the member's resumption and before the member is placed back into active duties.
- c. A request must be submitted to ACP Training for the member to be placed on the next available re-orientation training. All requisite returns should be recorded and submitted to ACP Training if the on-the-job training option is chosen.

9.5. In-service, Specialised and Advanced Training

Members of the JCF are selected to attend training courses to upgrade their skills, knowledge, and ability in police duties within the categories of in-service, specialised advanced and training. They are expressed as follows:

- a. In-service or professional development training refers to the ongoing training that law enforcement officers receive throughout their careers. It is designed to update their knowledge, improve their abilities, and ensure they stay current with the latest laws, procedures, and techniques.
- b. Specialised training programmes equip officers with expert skills and knowledge to address specific challenges or demands within the law enforcement domain and contribute to specific units or divisions within the JCF.
- c. Advanced Training is typically offered to experienced officers who have already completed their probationary training and are in leadership, command, or management roles.
- d. These training activities can be developed and facilitated by the faculties and departments of the NPCJ, Areas and Divisions of the JCF or by initiatives involving external JCF stakeholders locally, regionally, or internationally.
- e. Where the training activities are coordinated and conducted in the division or formation; commanders must submit a training report to ACP Training that includes:
 - i. The final curriculum/course outline.
 - ii. A summary of all assessments given in the training.
 - iii. The list with biographic data of participants, ranks and their grades.
 - iv. A final list of successful participants with recommendations for certification and promulgation in Force Orders (where necessary).

9.6. Selection to Participate in Training

The selection to participate in training activities should adhere to the following procedures:

a. Selection for Internal Training (NPCJ/JCF)

Members of the JCF are mandated to attend all trainings nominated or applied for based on the following:

- i. NPCJ invites nominees for scheduled training from the Divisional Commander.
- ii. Where a Divisional Commander sees a need for member(s) under his/her command to be trained, he/she should send a training request to NPCJ to have member(s) participate in training activities.

b. Selection for External Training (Local and Overseas)

Members who intend to participate in External Training activities shall adhere to the following procedures:

- i. An official invitation must be addressed to the Commissioner of Police from the entity hosting the training, who will nominate a member of the JCF or an application from a member requesting permission to participate in an external training through his/her Divisional Commander.
- ii. This should be done for residential and non-residential programmes.
- iii. If a member is selected to participate, he/she must submit a comprehensive course report no more than one week after returning. The Formation Commander should ensure that a copy of this report is sent to ACP Training. After this, ACP Training or a designate will interview the member at the earliest opportunity.

9.7. Approval for Training

All training activities coordinated and delivered are to adhere to the following procedures:

- 9.7.1. Any division or formation in the JCF may conduct training where the needs arise for their members. In such cases, Divisional Training Sub-officers shall identify and communicate training plans for their area, division, station, and formation to Commanders monthly.
- 9.7.2. Commanders must provide an application/proposal to ACP Training for the commencement, development, and/or review of training before training sessions are conducted based on the following timelines:
 - a. Workshops: 2 weeks prior to the planned delivery of training
 - b. Courses: 2 months prior to the planned delivery of training
 - c. Programmes: 6 months prior to the planned delivery of training
- 9.7.3. Once the application/proposal is received, ACP Training will request that the curriculum/course outline be developed or reviewed in consultation with the Dean of Academic Studies.
- 9.7.4. Upon completion of the curriculum/course outline and determination of the training's credibility, exclusivity, practicability, quality and authenticity, ACP Training will approve the commencement of the training.
- 9.7.5. At the end of the training, commanders must submit a training report to ACP Training that includes:
 - a. The final curriculum/course outline.
 - b. A summary of all assessments given in the training.

- c. The list with biographic data of participants, ranks and their grades.
- d. A final list of successful participants with recommendations for certification and promulgation in Force Orders.

9.7.6. Formations requiring the use of NPCJ resources (human and physical) for training purposes shall apply to the ACP Training at least four (4) weeks before the start date. ACP Training shall assess the application and provide feedback at least five (5) days before the start date of the training.

9.8. Training Records

- 9.8.1. The NPCJ shall maintain a database of all training, including the training schedule, participant records, programmes administered, etc. These records should be organized to ensure confidentiality, integrity, and access.
- 9.8.2. The Administration Branch shall keep participant training records for publication in Force Orders.

10.0. Legislative Authority/Guiding Principles
