1.0 Background

Members of the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF) are eligible for awards in three categories of medals in accordance with The National Honours and Awards Act (1969), The National Honours and Awards (Medal of Honour) (Jamaica Constabulary Force and the Island Special Constabulary Force) (ISCF) Regulations, 1970. These are:

- Medal of Honour for Gallantry which may be awarded to members of the JCF and the ISCF who have performed acts of gallantry or acts of heroism or have shown great courage in circumstances of extreme danger.
- Medal of Honour for Meritorious Service which may be awarded to members of the JCF and the ISCF who have performed distinguished service or have displayed distinguished conduct or bravery. A bar may be added for any additional meritorious service, and a rose on ribbon shall denote a bar.
- Medal of Honour for Long Service and Good Conduct - The Medal of Honour for Long Service and Good Conduct may be awarded to members of the JCF below the rank of Assistant Superintendent who have completed 18 years continuous service in the Force and whose conduct and character has been exemplary: Breaks in service not exceeding six calendar months on any occasion shall not be regarded as breaking the continuity of such service. A bar may be added for each further period of six years continuous service.

It is noted that an average 25 Medals of Honour for Meritorious Service and 150 Medals of Honour for Long Service and Good Conduct are allotted to officers and rank and file members of JCF annually. Additionally, Force Orders No.3509, Part 1, Sub. No.4 dated September 4, 2014, provides for rank and file members who perform their duties, considerably above average with zeal, energy and initiative to be commended or rewarded. This results in an annual average of 300 members receiving commendations for Recovery of Firearms, Efficient and Dedicated Work, amongst others.

However, it has been recognized that with an establishment of over 14,000 members, the current system of recognition for exemplary service by members is inadequate to provide positive reinforcement for performances which are above internal commendation but do not rise to the level of a national award.

Against this background, it is envisaged that the establishment of an internal system of recognition through the provision of Police Medals to be awarded to members will contribute to boosting the morale thus resulting in increased feelings of self-worth, higher outputs and organizational commitment.

2.0 Purpose

The purpose of the Jamaica Constabulary Force Medals and Awards Policy and Standard Operating Procedures is to provide a framework for the identification, selection and presentation of medals and awards to members of the JCF and its auxiliary by the Commissioner of Police. The Policy aims to recognize exemplary service by members in keeping with the organization's vision to 'become a high quality professional service that is valued and trusted by all citizens of Jamaica'.

3.0 Scope

This policy and standard operating procedures applies to all sworn and unsworn members of the JCF. The policy and SOP: i) establishes the various medals and awards within the organization; ii) sets the criteria for selection of recipients; and iii) provides the framework for the presentation of medals and awards to members by the Commissioner of Police.
