Purpose

The purpose of the NPCJ Staff Handbook is to provide clear guidance on the College's policies, procedures, and expectations for all employees. It serves to:

- Ensure consistency and fairness in the treatment of staff.
- Communicate the standards of professionalism and conduct required.
- Outline staff benefits, rights, and responsibilities.
- Foster a positive and productive work environment aligned with NPCJ's mission and values.
- Serve as a reference for operational procedures, safety protocols, and communication standards.

This handbook is not a contract of employment but a resource to support your success and professional growth at the National Police College of Jamaica.

The National Police College of Jamaica (NPCJ) was established on June 9 2014 building on the legacy, which started in 1867.

The College is located on 141 hectares of land in Twickenham Park, St. Catherine. It is approximately 1.6 km east of Spanish Town, the old capital of Jamaica and is 20 km west of Kingston, the present capital. The College shares facilities with the Caribbean Regional Drug Law Enforcement Training Centre

(REDTRAC). The establishment of the College operationalizes one of the recommendations of the Strategic Review of the Jamaica Constabulary Force commissioned by the Government of Jamaica, for the consolidation of the various training entities of the Jamaica Constabulary at the campus into a single, coordinated body. The various schools have been rebranded and restructured into the following faculties:

- Faculty of Leadership and Professional Development
- Faculty of Initial and Probationer Training
- Faculty of Operations Management and Skill training.
- Faculty of Criminal Investigation Training.

The New College is proud of its rich and long history starting in 1867. During the ensuing years, the Training NPCJ evolved to include the establishment of the Jamaica Constabulary Staff College on April 24, 1984 and a regional training school of excellence for search techniques. The College will continue to build on its rich tradition as we seek to improve our service to our local and regional law enforcement community.

Motto

“Committed to Professional Excellence”

Vision

"To be the regional institution of choice for excellence in law enforcement education, training and development."

Mission

“To support law enforcement priorities by providing timely and structured learning experiences, education, training and career development for the region and beyond”

Standard operating procedure

(Extracted from the staff orientation policy)

6.2.1 Preparations should be made for the arrival of the member of staff well in advance, for example, arrangements should be made to provide desk, equipment and office supplies.

6.2.2. Introduce them to their new workspace and colleagues at the earliest opportunity. An introductory talk will be appropriate at this time and can be combined with the provision of general information and exchanging of any necessary documentation. This talk should be as brief as possible, because the employee is unlikely to be receptive to detailed information at this stage, and should be conducted by someone who is well prepared and has sufficient time available.

6.2.3. Managers/supervisors should refer to the Orientation Checklist (see Appendix One) and use it as a basis for discussion thus, ensuring all documentation is complete.

6.2.4. A tour of the workplace should be arranged for the member of staff allowing the NPCJ/Division to be viewed as a whole and them to see where he/she fits into the organisation.

6.2.5. Submission of all appropriate documentations. Such as:

- a) Job Descriptions
- b) Interim Appraisal
- c) Work Plan
- d) Performance Management Appraisal System

6.2.6. Introduction of a colleague who will function as a coach or mentor (this can be an immediate supervisor or a senior member of staff) who has been exposed to similar tasks as the member of staff.

This coach/mentor should be briefed on the member of staff's arrival and should ensure that he/she has every assistance in getting the member of staff to settle in quickly.

6.2.7. Certain groups of staff may have specific induction needs. The main groups are detailed below, with particular points to take account of, explained.

6.2.7.1. Managers

Whilst many of the points in the checklist apply equally to all new managerial staff, in most cases, individual orientation programmes will be necessary. These should be drawn up in consultation with new managers, taking into account their backgrounds and experience and the nature of their new roles. Priority should be given to helping new managers establish and maintain relationships with management colleagues and opportunities should be provided for them to spend time in other relevant departments to facilitate this process. This will help managers to quickly gain an understanding of the NPCJ's philosophies, strategic plans and business plans. Therefore, managers will need a broader orientation to put their post in context.

This may include:

- a) Structure and culture of department.

- b) Role in relation to Faculty/ Department / NPCJ, as appropriate.
- c) Training course in supervisory and management skills, if required

6.2.7.2. Staff Returning from Extended Leaves

Staff who may have been on Extended Leaves should be engaged in discussions within the first two weeks of their return to have them up to date with changes. These discussions should include:

- a) Changes to policies, technology (records management systems, student information systems, etc.) and/or roles and responsibilities.
- b) The difference between the employee's previous working environment and this new one.
- c) Changes in skills required for this area of work.
- d) Requirement for training to update skills.

6.2.7.3. Civilian, New to Formation or Area of Expertise

These members of staff may have no previous work experience and will need careful integration into the NPCJ. Therefore, a discussion of the following is necessary:

- a) Role within the department.
- b) Reporting responsibilities.
- c) Allocation and prioritisation of work.
- d) Specific training as to the policies and procedures of the specific area(s) of position
- e) Training in specific area(s) within a year of employment or posting

SWORN STAFF MEMBERS

Grooming, Appearance and Conduct

Grooming Standards:

As members of the law enforcement community, all staff must uphold a high standard of personal grooming and appearance. Employees are required to adhere to the guidelines set out in the Jamaica Constabulary Force Rules and Regulations (Book of Rules, pages 47–72) and Force Orders 3306 and 3307). Maintaining a professional appearance is essential at all times when representing the National Police College of Jamaica.

Speech

In all interactions, language should be used to advocate for truth and the promotion of good, rather than to defend wrongdoing. Additionally, during question-and-answer sessions, presentations, and all other speaking engagements, employees must apply the principles outlined in the Jamaica Constabulary Force Public Interaction Policy. This demonstrates professionalism and respect for both external and internal customers.

Leave and Allowances

At the National Police College of Jamaica (NPCJ), the Leave and Compensation policy serves as a key component of the institution's human resource management framework. It is designed to ensure fair, consistent, and transparent practices that uphold the welfare of all staff—uniformed and civilian. This policy outlines the types of leave available (such as vacation, sick, study, and maternity leave), the conditions for eligibility, and the procedures for approval. In terms of compensation, the framework ensures that salaries, allowances, and benefits are administered in accordance with public service regulations and agreements with oversight bodies such as the Ministry of Finance and the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF). Together, the leave and compensation systems contribute to a stable, motivated, and high-performing workforce committed to advancing the NPCJ's mission of excellence in policing education and professional development.

(Extracted from the Book of rules for the Guidance and General Direction of the Jamaica Constabulary Force)

AUTHORITY FOR THE GRANT OF LEAVE

Authority for the grant of leave to members is vested in the Commissioner who, subject to any Rules contained herein, is authorised to delegate to officers in charge of Police Establishments, general or specific authority to grant leave.

The Commissioner may direct any member to proceed on vacation leave at any time.

SUBJECT TO REGULATIONS WHILE ON LEAVE

All members on leave of absence shall be subject to the regulations prohibiting misconduct and are liable to the consequences of any breaches of discipline.

OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS

Except in the most urgent circumstances, members will not be allowed leave of absence if they have official correspondence, monthly accounts or returns which have been unduly delayed.

ELIGIBILITY FOR VACATION LEAVE

Subject to the exigencies of the service, members are entitled to the grant of vacation leave in accordance with the following schedule:

APPLICATION FOR LEAVE

Application for leave by members should be submitted in writing and with sufficient time to allow for a reply. Applications must not be transmitted by telegraph, telephone or radio, except in case of emergency.

MEMBERS MAY BE RECALLED OFF LEAVE

Members who are granted vacation leave may be recalled for duty by the Commissioner. A member so recalled shall be reimbursed for any reasonable out-of-pocket expense including actual financial loss sustained as a consequence of the decision to recall him.

LEAVE AND COURT

No member, except in case of illness, may apply for leave, or for an extension of leave which will prevent his attendance at Court if required as a witness.

NON-PERFORMANCE OF DUTY

When members are unable for any reason to perform their duties, they shall urgently inform those to whom they are immediately responsible. A claim of illness as the reason for non-performance of duty will not be entertained unless promptly reported and subsequently supported by a Medical Certificate submitted within 48 hours. In any event no member shall proceed on any form of leave of absence before advising his supervisor of the address where he may be found.

LEAVE OUTSIDE JAMAICA

The Commissioner may grant permission for leave, as entitled by Rules, to be spent abroad on full pay to any member with over two years of service. Application for such leave must be typewritten and submitted in triplicate at least two (2) months prior to the proposed date of commencement, except in very special circumstances. Such application shall state the period and purpose for which the leave is required, name and address of overseas references, proposed dates of leaving and return.

ACCUMULATION OF LEAVE

If a member who has accumulated the maximum leave in respect of his grade without having been granted such leave should apply in writing for the vacation leave to which he is entitled, or some portion thereof, but is not granted such leave owing to the exigencies of the service, such member shall be entitled to additional full pay vacation leave beyond the maximum accumulable for his grade. In such cases, however, the amount of additional leave which may be so accumulated shall be limited to leave in respect of service for a further period of two (2) years subject to the approval of the Permanent Secretary in the Ministry responsible for the Police.

Members who accumulate leave should clearly understand that there can be no guarantee that when the maximum leave is accumulated such leave will be granted. Accumulation beyond the maximum will only be allowed in the circumstances described at Rule 4.12.

Members will not be allowed to earn vacation leave during periods of sick and vacation leave exceeding fourteen (14) days respectively.

DEPARTMENTAL LEAVE

The Commissioner may grant any member a total of fourteen (14) days departmental leave in any calendar year. Where any Saturday, Sunday or Public Holiday falls within any period of departmental leave such day shall not be regarded as a day of leave.

Departmental leave may not be granted to any member between the 20th of December and the 6th day of January, except in exceptional circumstances.

STUDY LEAVE

Where a member with the approval of the Governor General, acting on the advice of the Police Service Commission, undertakes any course of study in the interest of the Public Service, he will be required to utilise for this purpose all vacation leave, accumulated vacation leave and recalled leave to which he is entitled and he may be granted by the Commissioner of Police such additional full pay study leave up to a maximum of six (6) months to enable him to complete the course. Should the combined period of vacation, accumulated vacation, recalled and full pay study leave prove insufficient to enable the member to complete the course of study, he or she may be granted a further period of half pay study leave not exceeding a maximum of twenty-four (24) months. Any further leave required would be without pay. A member granted half pay leave under this Rule will not be entitled, in addition, to any half pay leave.

Members selected for training at Government expense may be required to enter into an agreement undertaking to resume, or take up employment in the Public Service on the completion of their studies for a period of up to five (5) years at the discretion of the Permanent Secretary of the Ministry responsible for the Public Service. Such an agreement may require the member selected to pay to the Government on default such sum as may be prescribed therein or such lesser amount as may be determined by the Permanent Secretary of the Ministry responsible for the Public Service provided that there shall be a sliding scale on which such sum is repayable with credits awarded for periods of service given.

In exceptional circumstances, a member who fails to obtain study leave under Section (a) of this Rule may be granted by the Permanent Secretary of the Ministry responsible for the Public Service, leave of absence without salary, in addition to the vacation leave, accumulated vacation leave and recalled leave to which he is entitled for the purpose of undertaking a course of study, although his particular course of study may not be immediately in the public interest.

RECREATIONAL LEAVE

On completion of the course a member may be granted a period of full pay leave to be utilised for the purposes of recreation not exceeding half the period of vacation leave which he devoted to the period of the course, subject to the conditions that such leave is utilised not later than the first occasion on which the member is granted vacation leave, following his course of study.

MATERNITY LEAVE

A member who requires leave for maternity purposes may be granted leave as under, provided that she has completed twelve (12) months service at the date of application:

- (i) Special maternity leave on full salary for a period not exceeding fifty-six (56) days, on the presentation of an appropriate medical certificate;
- (ii) All the vacation leave to which she may be entitled;
- (ii) Leave without pay for an additional period not exceeding ninety (90) days.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) the Commissioner of Police or the Permanent Secretary may in any particular case authorise the grant of leave without pay for maternity purposes in excess of ninety (90) days.

(c) Sick leave may be granted to run consecutively with leave granted for maternity purposes in accordance with (a) of this Rule on the production of satisfactory medical evidence that the illness does not result directly or indirectly or specifically from pregnancy.

SICK LEAVE

- (a) Full pay sick leave not exceeding twenty-eight (28) days in any calendar year may be granted to a member on production of a Medical Certificate.

- (b) On the expiration of leave at (a), a member may utilise his unused departmental leave and not more than one half of his unused vacation leave from the commencement of such sick leave on full pay.
- (c) Should the member's illness necessitate his continuous absence beyond the provisions at (b) because such illness entails major surgery or prolonged treatment the Permanent Secretary responsible for the Police may grant further special sick leave on full pay subject to 4.22.(a).

LEAVE IN RESPECT OF INJURY IN THE DISCHARGING OF DUTY

Members who sustain any injury or contract a disease as a result of, or in the discharge of their duties and without their own fault, may be granted leave of absence on full pay by the Commissioner without affecting their normal leave entitlement.

MEDICAL BOARD

- (a) At the expiration of ninety (90) days continuous leave of absence granted under Rule 4.20 such member shall be put before a Medical Board which may consider the grant of further sick leave or the member's fitness for further service.
- (b) In respect of leave of absence granted to a member under Rule 4.21, the Commissioner of Police may require such member to be put before a Medical Board at the expiration of one hundred and eighty (180) days continuous sick leave. The Board may consider the grant of further sick leave or the member's fitness for further service.

HALF PAY LEAVE

Leave of absence on half pay may be granted to a member by the Permanent Secretary of the Ministry responsible for the Public Service after six (6) years service from first appointment, provided that such leave together with any full pay vacation leave granted shall not, except as provided in Rule 4.17 or on the grounds of urgent private affairs, exceed one hundred and five (105) days at any one time.

Half pay leave may be granted after a less duration of service than six (6) years in cases of urgent private affairs. In no case, however, shall half pay leave exceed by more than one hundred and five (105), one-sixth of the members service and no member shall be allowed to receive half pay continuously for more than twelve (12) months. Any further leave granted will be without pay.

SPECIAL LEAVE

The Commissioner may grant special leave to members for the purpose of participating in Departmental, National and International sports or games and such grants of special short leave shall not be set against normal entitlement of the member.

UNABLE TO RETURN OFF LEAVE

In the event of any member being unable to resume duty at the expiration of his leave owing to special circumstances, the Officer in whose Division such member resides may, after due enquiry, grant an extension of six (6) days and shall immediately notify the Officer in Charge of the Division to which the member belongs and shall also report to the Commissioner without whose authority no further extension of leave can be granted. In the report the Officer must certify that the leave applied for was necessary.

EXTENSION OF LEAVE

Leave of absence granted to a member will not be extended except in a case of necessity which must be clearly shown by the member and in the event of sickness being the plea, a Medical Certificate must accompany the application.

A member who resigns voluntarily (in circumstances other than retirement on pension) shall be paid a sum equivalent to the remuneration he would have received had he been granted all the vacation leave to which he is entitled.

A member who is being dismissed shall be paid a sum equal to the remuneration he would have received had he been granted all the vacation leave to which he was entitled immediately prior to his dismissal.

In the event of death of a member a sum equivalent to the emolument he would have received for the number of days' vacation leave to his credit shall be paid to his legal personal representative.

CHANGE OF RESIDENCE

In the event of any change of residence during leave of absence, Officers will inform the Commissioner while other members will inform their Commanding Officers of such changes and their new addresses

ALLOWANCES

Allowances, as determined from time to time, shall be paid to members at the approved rates. Technical allowances may be paid only to members of those sections involved in performing technical duties as determined by the Minister.

HOUSE ALLOWANCES/RENTAL:

SUB-OFFICERS & CONSTABLES

- (a) Separate House Allowance/Rental Allowance will be paid when a woman police is married to a policeman, whether they reside together or apart.

- (b) House Allowance/Rental Allowance shall be payable:
 - (i) to a member from the date of initial posting if such member was married before enlistment or,
 - (ii) from the date of marriage if such member gets married after initial posting and,
 - (ii) to other members for whom there is no suitable and or adequate living accommodation provided by Government.
- (c) House or Rent Allowance should continue to be paid to all members in receipt of these allowances during periods of sick, departmental, vacation, pre-retirement or maternity leave.

In the event of separation, divorce, or death of spouse of members in receipt of House Allowance, this Allowance shall continue to be paid if the member has children under the age of nineteen (19) years whom he is required to support, or over nineteen (19) years and attending a recognised institution of learning, or are mentally or physically retarded.

- (a) Members in receipt of detective, driving, washing, uniform and plain clothes allowances shall continue to draw such allowance or allowances while on vacation, sick, or departmental leave, not exceeding one (1) month.
- (b) Where a member becomes ill because of the nature of his duties, or is injured on duty, he should receive full salary as well as house, marriage, detective and uniform allowance during the period of illness. This period of absence due to illness will have to be certified by the appropriate medical authority.

ALLOWANCES: TRANSPORT

Members in receipt of allowance for the upkeep of a motor car, motor cycle or bicycle shall continue to draw such allowance during all periods of sick, departmental, vacation, pre-retirement and maternity leave.

The provisions of this Rule shall not apply in cases where a member is granted leave prior to resignation or separation from the Service in any circumstance.

The Allowance will also not be payable during the period of pre-retirement leave where the Officer has been employed during such leave by a Statutory Body financed from Public Funds on terms which provide for the payment of a travelling allowance.

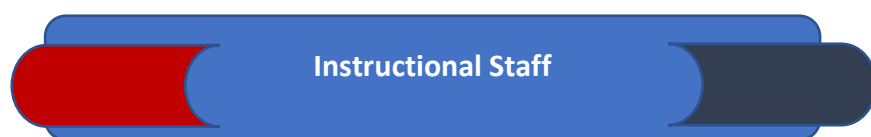

OFFICER'S RESIDENCE

- (a) An Officer may either be provided with quarters on such terms as may be specified or in lieu thereof be paid a house or rental allowance at such rate as the Minister responsible for the Public Service may from time to time approve.

- (b) House or Rent Allowance should continue to be paid to all members in receipt of those allowances during the periods of sick, departmental, vacation, pre-retirement or maternity leave.

Members in receipt of Entertainment and Utility Allowances shall continue to be paid these allowances during the periods of sick, departmental, vacation, pre-retirement or maternity leave.

Members in receipt of special non-pensionable allowance shall continue to be paid this allowance during periods of vacation leave.

The instructional staff at the National Police College of Jamaica (NPCJ) are essential to the preparation and professional development of law enforcement officers serving within the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF) and the wider Caribbean. Under the governance and oversight of the JCF High Command, instructors are expected to maintain the highest standards of teaching, ethics, and professionalism. Instructional delivery must also meet the academic and quality assurance standards of the University Council of Jamaica (UCJ), align with the international best practices promoted by the International Association of Directors of Law Enforcement Standards and Training (IADLEST), and reflect the pedagogical principles supported by the Jamaica Teachers' Association (JTA). As facilitators of learning and discipline, NPCJ instructional staff must promote an environment rooted in excellence, accountability, and continuous improvement, while serving as role models committed to national security and public service.

As instructors you will be subjected to periodic Instructor evaluation processes and in addition you will be introduced to various staff development sessions and courses to improve and enhance performance.

Kindly see appendix for code of conduct and sample evaluation form.

CIVILIAN STAFF

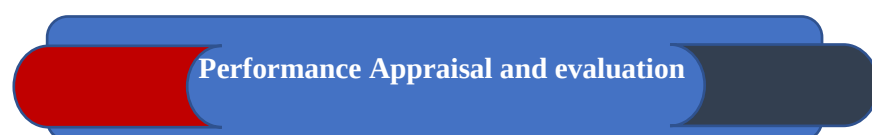

OVERVIEW

Civilian staff at NPCJ fall under the administrative supervision of the Human Resources Department, which is responsible for recruitment, onboarding, performance management, and compliance with employment policies. Day-to-day operations are overseen by relevant departmental heads or supervisors, depending on the staff member's assigned unit.

Additionally, the employment terms and conditions of civilian staff are governed by the Staff Orders for the Public Service (2004) and fall under the broader human resource policies of the Ministry of National Security. This ministry provides policy guidance and oversight for leave entitlements, disciplinary procedures, and staff development opportunities. Where applicable, coordination may also involve the Services Commissions Department for matters relating to appointments, promotions, and disciplinary hearings.

The leave entitlements for civilian staff at the National Police College of Jamaica (NPCJ) are governed by Chapter 7 of the Staff Orders for the Public Service (2004). This chapter outlines the policies and procedures related to various types of leave available to public officers.

Kindly see QR code for the Staff Orders for the Public Service (2004) in for Leave and allowances

The Performance Management and Appraisal System (PMAS) of the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF) is a structured framework designed to enhance accountability, efficiency, and professionalism within the Force. Implemented in 2006, it aligns with the Government of Jamaica's broader public sector reform initiatives aimed at fostering a results-oriented and client-focused public service.

The Performance Appraisal Policy (please see and scan QR code for access) clearly outlines the roles and responsibilities of all stakeholders involved to ensure transparency and accuracy in evaluation and appraisal; all of which are adopted and applied by the national police college of Jamaica.

In addition, instructional staff will also undergo periodic evaluation to ensure that their mode of operation are aligned with both local and international accredited policies and standards. (See appendix A for sample evaluation form)

Support and Recreational Services

The National Police College of Jamaica is committed to ensuring that all staff have access to the necessary support systems to promote well-being, learning, and professional growth. Our support services are designed to enhance the overall experience at NPCJ by providing timely assistance, fostering resilience, and supporting personal and professional development. These services include academic support, counselling, IT services, administrative guidance, and more, all delivered with a focus on confidentiality, respect, and service excellence.

On site facilities include:

- Medical Services branch offering: physiotherapy, peer counselling and chaplaincy services, access to medical practitioners etc)
- Cafeteria

This file includes all documents from the date of application to the date service ends.

Maintenance or records

- All employee files are kept in the Human Resource Division of the Ministry or Department under conditions which ensure security and protection from hazards (water, fire, etc)
- Any changes to an employee's status must be noted in a timely manner and added to the employee file. Supervisors are to ensure that all documents related to the employee are sent to the Human Resource Division for inclusion in the employee's file;
- Employees are to be made aware of any addition of any documentation to their file

- Employees are to ensure that their records are kept current by notifying the Human Resource Division, in writing of any changes in circumstances such as academic achievements, changes in address, marital status next of kin beneficiary, etc.
- Any addition of information/documentation to the file by an employee must be done through the appropriate authority in Human Resource Division.
- The removal of any information or documentation from the file, by an employee, can only be done through, and with the permission of the appropriate authority in the Human Resource Division.
- An employee's file shall not be removed from the Human Resource Division except by authorized officers and with the permission of the Permanent Secretary/ Head of Department.

Access to personal information:

An employee has the right to access and view his/her file and make copies of any document upon request to the Head of the Human Resource Division.

Any access, viewing or copy shall be done in the presence of suitably authorized personnel within the Human Resource Division.
