Sub. No. 1 THE COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

Greetings my Distinguished Colleagues,

I trust you have been having a great week. I know some of you may be going through a difficult time, either with some social, emotional or financial situations that may seem a bit overwhelming. While I do not claim to be any authority on these matters, I know what works for me, is to talk to someone who I know cares. Sometimes, just the process of sharing your issues with a friend helps to ease the mental burden and lets you think more clearly. I even find it to be a method of streamlining my thoughts in arriving at a solution and a way to cope.

Colleagues, please join me in offering my most sincere condolences to Constable Cobrena Crawford, who lost her son in a motor vehicle accident recently. Let us pray for her speedy and full recovery from her injuries, and for her to have the strength to go through this difficult period. For those who know her, continue to offer your support. We also need to remember the bereaved family and friends of the late Detective Inspector Hutchinson of Specialized Operations, who died over the weekend - may his soul rest in peace. Remember too, that tomorrow we lay to rest the body of the late Sergeant Mayne, who was killed tragically on the grounds of the Half-Way-Tree Police Station. Colleagues, the families and friends of these officers need our support, now more than ever.

Today we will be briefly exploring the roles of the strategic, the tactical and the operational, and how they relate to us as an organisation. I like to use the terms "specialists" and "generalists", to illustrate the necessary transition from the operational to the strategic. For our discussion and within this context, there are 2 types of specialization - namely, the one that focuses on a specific vocational skill, such as an electrician or a software programmer or a plumber; then there is the specialization relative to the field of policing. Here we specialize in a particular policing function, such as traffic management, investigation and intelligence; where we have a traffic officer, an investigator, and an intelligence field officer, respectively. We consider these persons specialists in their respective fields. In the Jamaica Constabulary Force, we have career paths for various specializations, whether it is from the category of non-policing vocational skills or that of general policing functions. As a specialist, your scope of work is narrow, but deep. That is, your role covers a relatively small area but you have to understand it way beyond the average worker - in other words, you are an expert in that specific area.

As we prepare to be elevated to the next level, we must be mindful that our role will become broader and less deep. That is, it may now include the oversight of yours, and other specialists' roles. That is when we begin transitioning into the realm of the generalist. It means we need to begin to shape our thought processes around the assessing of the output of the specialists, rather than being one. Very often this transition is not easily made, and we end up with high ranked specialists, managing low ranked specialists. The problem with this is that other areas of specialization are not given the necessary management attention to ensure that they work seamlessly together to deliver a common service. It means therefore that a Sub-Officer in charge of a station cannot deliver effective service if his focus is mainly around traffic management, because that's his area of expertise.

Likewise, as a Divisional Commander, you are considered a generalist, managing various areas of specialization to deliver a common service. Your job, at this point, is to ensure that your Traffic Specialist is effective in managing issues of road use; that your investigators are effective in solving crimes; and that your Intelligence Field Officers are effective in intelligence field craft. The higher up the ladder you climb, the more functional areas that you become responsible for, thereby giving you less time to practice the craft of each to maintain expertise. In other words, what should concern you at this point is knowing when a shoe is properly made, even while you cannot make one.

THE COMMISSIONER'S CORNER (CONT'D)

So, our discussion so far has been focusing mainly on the general policing functions. While the illustration of the specialist and the generalist is also relevant to the non-policing vocational skills, it is less obvious in some areas, for example an electrician of the Property Management and Maintenance Division (PMMD). However, members who perform such duties are sometimes assigned these roles for their entire careers. It means that the organisation must create a pathway for their elevation in the areas to which we have assigned them. This pathway should be afforded to them in two ways: (1) where they are assessed based on the grade or skill level they have achieved in their specific fields; and (2) their ability to supervise specialists across the various functional areas in their vocational domains - such as building construction and technology.

Again, I run the risk of exceeding my weekly word count quota with my ramblings. And so, I will close by using this medium to recognize Mr. Richard Stewart, Deputy Commissioner of Police, who took up the reins of the Crime and Security Portfolio on Monday of this week. Already, he has hit the ground running. DCP Stewart's career is a clear demonstration of the seamless transition from the specialist to the becoming one of the JCF's finest generalists. I am confident that he will run a faster leg, and our various branches under the Portfolio will be even more effective.

Colleagues, I wish for you and your families a blessed and peaceful weekend. Until next week, take care.

REMINDER - THE JAMAICA CONSTABULARY FORCE STRATEGIC PRIORITIES AND RELATED OBJECTIVES

Force Orders No. 4031, Part I, Sub. No. 3 dated 2024-09-05, is hereby republished for general information.

Crime Control and Reduction

In the first quarter of the year 2024, the Jamaica Constabulary Force (JCF) demonstrated commendable progress in key Crime Control and Reduction objectives, particularly in reducing Category 1 crimes, which include serious offences such as murder. The results for this period underscore the effectiveness of the strategies and operational measures that have been implemented across various divisions.

The JCF set an ambitious target to achieve a 10% reduction in murders by the end of 2024. For the first two quarters, the performance exceeded expectations, with murders being reduced by 17%. Specifically, there were 307 murders reported, a significant decrease from the 360 recorded during the same period last year.

REMINDER – THE JAMAICA CONSTABULARY FORCE STRATEGIC PRIORITIES AND RELATED OBJECTIVES (CONT'D)

This achievement is not isolated, but is part of a broader trend in reducing overall Category 1 crimes. The data reveals that Category 1 crimes saw a 15% reduction, with 1,003 incidents reported, compared to 1,180 in the previous year. This improvement highlights the effectiveness of the JCF's proactive measures, such as enhanced community engagement, increased patrols, and the strategic use of technology.

Objectives with targets

- Reduce Category 1 Crimes by 10% by 31.12. 2024
- Achieve a clear up rate of 60% of all Category 1 Crimes by (31.12. 2024
- Clear up 600 murders by 31.12. 2024
- Degrade 5 major criminal organisations by 31.12. 2024
- Arrest 15% of the persons on the Wanted Persons List by 31.12. 2024
- Train 100 members in the field of Intelligence by 31.12.2024
- Train 400 members in modern criminal investigations by 31.12.2024
- Bolster 100% of Praedial Larceny Units with Agriculture Wardens by 31.3.2025

Improving Public Safety and Citizens' Security

The JCF has made significant strides in improving road safety and increasing police presence in major town centres during the first quarter of 2024. These efforts reflect the JCF's commitment to enhancing public safety and ensuring a secure environment for all Jamaicans.

Improved Road Safety is a vital objective within the JCF's key objectives for 2024. The data from the first half of the year shows a notable reduction in road fatalities, with a 16% decrease in the number of deaths recorded between January and June 2024. Specifically, there were 110 fatalities in the first quarter (January-March 2024) and 92 in the second quarter (April-June 2024), compared to 108 fatalities during the same period in 2023.

This 16% reduction from the first to the second quarter of 2024, and the 15% decrease when comparing April-June 2023 to the same period in 2024, highlights the positive impact of the JCF's road safety initiatives. These initiatives include increased traffic enforcement, public awareness campaigns, and the strategic use of technology such as speed radars and the Smart Check system.

Another key objective for the JCF has been to enhance public safety by increasing police presence in major commercial areas. As of June 30, 2024, the JCF successfully deployed Beat Officer Patrol personnel in 28 locations, marking substantial progress towards achieving this goal.

The deployment of officers in these strategic locations has contributed to a heightened sense of security among the public, particularly in bustling town centres where commercial activities are concentrated. These increased police visibility acts as a deterrent to criminal activities and reinforces the JCF's commitment to maintaining order and safety in these key areas.

Objectives with targets

- Respond to 75% of calls for service within the required time (15 minutes in townships/centres and 25 minutes in rural areas) by 31.12. 2024.
- Achieve 75% customer satisfaction with safety and security services offered by JCF by 31.12. 2024
- Reduce road fatalities by 5% by 31.12. 2024
- Increase the number of major commercial areas with dedicated Beat Officer Patrol deployments to 40 locations island-wide by 31.03.2025.
- Increase the strength of each OST to 20% of divisional strength by 31.12.2024.
- Establish C5 at PECC by 31.03.2025.

REMINDER – THE JAMAICA CONSTABULARY FORCE STRATEGIC PRIORITIES AND RELATED OBJECTIVES (CONT'D)

Organizational Restructuring and Capacity Building

The JCF has prioritized the development and training of its leadership and supervisory teams, recognizing that strong leadership is essential for effective policing. The Leadership Development and Training Programmes are scheduled for completion by March 31, 2025, and the progress made during the first quarter indicates that the Force is on track to meet this timeline.

These training programs are designed to equip JCF personnel with the necessary skills and knowledge to lead effectively, manage resources, and enhance overall operational efficiency. The completion of these programs will ensure that the JCF is better prepared to handle the challenges of modern law enforcement.

Another major structural change is the re-implementation of the island-wide Highway Patrol System, which was successfully completed by June 30, 2024. This initiative is part of the JCF's broader strategy to enhance road safety and reduce traffic-related incidents across the country. The re-implementation was formally recognized in Force Orders No. 4012, dated April 25, 2024.

These accomplishments reflect the JCF's commitment to continuous improvement and the professional development of its personnel. The focus on leadership training and the re-establishment of key operational systems will have a lasting impact on the effectiveness and responsiveness of the Force.

Objectives with targets

- Implement revised organisational structure by 31.03.2025
- Complete 100% of Leadership Development and Training Programmes by 31.03.2025
- Increase the number of Gazetted Officers to at least 4% of establishment by 31.03.2025

Enhancing Staff Welfare

The Jamaica Constabulary Force continues to prioritize the welfare of its members, recognizing that a well-supported Force is essential for effective law enforcement. The first quarter of 2024 has seen significant efforts to address the welfare needs of JCF personnel, with a focus on responding to incidents of injury, providing psychological and medical services, and processing welfare-related applications. The JCF's efforts in the first quarter to address the welfare needs of its members have been highly effective, with significant progress made across all key areas. The Force's commitment to ensuring that injured members and the families of fallen members are supported, coupled with comprehensive mental and physical health services, highlights its dedication to the well-being of its personnel.

These initiatives not only contribute to the overall health and morale of the Force, but also enhance the JCF's capacity to maintain public safety and security. As the year progresses, the JCF will continue to build on these successes, striving to further improve its response to the welfare needs of its members.

Objectives with targets

Improving Accountability and Professional Standards

12TH SEPTEMBER, 2024

SERIAL NO. 4032

REMINDER – THE JAMAICA CONSTABULARY FORCE STRATEGIC PRIORITIES AND RELATED OBJECTIVES (CONT'D)

In the first quarter of 2024, the Jamaica Constabulary Force placed significant emphasis on enhancing customer satisfaction with its police services. This objective encompassed several key compliance measures designed to improve transparency, accountability, and the overall quality of service provided to the community. While progress was made in certain areas, some targets were not fully achieved, highlighting areas for further improvement.

The mixed outcomes in customer satisfaction measures reveal both strengths and areas requiring attention within the JCF. While the high compliance rate for inspections demonstrates the Force's capability to maintain rigorous standards, the lower compliance rates for station diary certification and divisional case registries indicate gaps that need to be addressed. There is a need for more focused efforts to improve compliance in station diary certification and divisional case registries. Addressing these challenges is essential for enhancing overall customer satisfaction and building greater trust within the community.

Objectives with targets

- 80% Compliance rate with Station Diary certification by 31.12. 2024.
- 80% Compliance rate for the inspection of police stations by 31.12. 2024.
- 75% Compliance rate of Divisional Case Registries by 31.12. 2024.
- Conduct three (3) thematic inspections by 31.12. 2024.
- 80% monitoring and feedback on all cases referred to Formations by 31.12. 2024
- Conduct at least one (1) audit guided by the ISO9001:2015 Standard by 31.12. 2024

Enhancing Efficiency through Technology

The JCF has made substantial progress in its ongoing efforts to enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of its administrative processes through the strategic use of information technology. The first quarter of 2024 has seen critical advancements in the technological enablement of various operational processes, setting the stage for full implementation by the target date of March 31, 2025. To achieve this objective, the JCF has focused on integrating advanced technology across several key areas of its operations. Below is an overview of the technological tools and systems that have been deployed to enhance traffic management, operational deployment, patrol, and report generation.

As these systems become fully operational by March 31, 2025, the JCF anticipates further improvements in service delivery, response times, and overall public safety. The commitment to leveraging information technology reflects the JCF's strategic vision of becoming a more agile, responsive, and accountable law enforcement agency, capable of meeting the needs of a rapidly changing society.

Objectives with targets

- Technologically enabled 9 Operational processes by 31.03.2025.
- Deploy 200 additional Body Worn Cameras by 31.03.2025
- Connect 125 police facilities across the island to JCF data centres by 31.03.2025.
- Expand Amber Connect in 20% of fleet by 31.03.2025.
- Roll out of CMS and SRMS to 90 police stations 31.03.2025.
- 100% procurement of technological devices by 31.03.2025.
- 100% implementation of Enterprise Resource Planning System by 31.03.2025
- Complete the implementation of Business Process Automation of Criminal Records Office by 31.03.2025.

Improving Communication and Public Engagement

Through targeted community activities, improved communication strategies, and active social media engagement, the JCF has worked diligently to strengthen its relationship with the public and improve the perception of police services.

REMINDER - THE JAMAICA CONSTABULARY FORCE STRATEGIC PRIORITIES AND RELATED OBJECTIVES (CONT'D)

The JCF set ambitious targets for community engagement and customer satisfaction, which were met and exceeded in several key areas.

The JCF also exceeded its target for positive feedback on police services, achieving an 82% satisfaction rate at core International Organization for Standardization (ISO) stations. This positive reception underscores the effectiveness of the JCF's community engagement efforts and its commitment to improving service delivery at key locations.

By the end of the first quarter, the JCF successfully established 13 Constabulary Communication Network (CCN) Liaison Officers across its formations, with 12 in geographical formations and one in a non-geographical formation - Counter-Terrorism and Organised Crime (C-TOC). Although the target of 23 liaisons has not yet been fully realized, the progress made thus far lays a solid foundation for achieving the full objective by the end of the year.

The JCF has placed a strong emphasis on enhancing its communication strategies to ensure clear, consistent, and widespread messaging, both internally and with the public.

While progress has been made in establishing CCN liaisons, continued efforts will be needed to meet the year-end target. Additionally, the growing engagement on social media platforms reflects the JCF's successful adaptation to modern communication channels, further enhancing its ability to connect with diverse audiences.

Objectives

- Complete 80% of planned community engagements by 31.12. 2024
- Achieve a 75% positive customer rating of police services by 31.12. 2024

- Increase social media views by 10% by 31.12. 2024
- Increase YouTube subscribers by 10% by 31.12. 2024.
